The Records and Business of the Department.

Business communications are frequently addressed to this Department which should have been sent to some other branch of the State government, and as often letters which should have been forwarded to this Department are, by mistake or misapprehension of the writers, mailed to some other office. For general information, the following synopsis of the records and business of this Department is appended:

I. The land-office contains:

1. The records of patents granted in Pennsylvania by the Duke of York prior to 1681, and of the original grants made by the Proprietaries or the Commonthwealth from 1681 until the present time. The latter include applications, warrants, surveys, returns for patenting, patents, vouchers, and books of accounts.
2. Surveys of State and county lines, rivers, railroads, canals, State roads, turnpike-roads, plans of towns laid out by authority of the Proprietaries or the Commonwealth, and maps and reports relative to the erection of new counties.
3. Miscellaneous records of charters of incorporation, deeds, agreements, releases, and letters of attorney relating to lands.
4. The records of the Canal Commissioners' office, embracing surveys, maps, plans, contracts, minutes of the board, check-rolls, accounts, vouchers, and various other papers.
5. The records of the State Board of Centennial Managers for the International Exhibition of 1876, together with the register of visitors kept in the Pennsylvania State Centennial building.

II. Assessment returns made annually since and including the year 1875 by the boards of commissioners of the several counties and the board of revision of the city of Philadelphia, showing by assessment districts the valuation of taxable property, the amount of tax assessed, debt of county, etc.

III.

1. The Bureau of Industrial Statistics collects statistics in regard to the wages of labor and the social condition of the laboring classes; also, the productive statistics of agriculture, mining, manufacturing, commercial, and other business interests of the State.
2. The reports of the inspectors of bituminous mines, which are made to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, under an act approved the 18th day of April, 1877.
3. The reports of the inspectors of anthracite mines, each of which inspectors is required, by an act approved the 30th day of June, 1885, to "make an annual report of his proceedings to the Secretary of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth, at the close of every year, enumerating all the accidents in and about the collieries of his district, marking, in tabular form, those accidents causing death or serious personal injury, the condition of the workings of the said mines with regard to the safety of the workmen therein, and the ventilation thereof, and the result of his labors generally shall be fully set forth."

IV. Annual returns of railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph, and telephone companies doing business in the Commonwealth, showing their operations and affairs for the year, made under acts approved, respectively, the 4th day of April, 1859, and the 9th day of April, 1870.

The annual report of the Department consists of four parts, as follows:

I. Land Office includes the matters concerning lands and surveys, and the general business affairs of the Department for the State fiscal year, which ends with the 30th day of November. With it is bound:

II. Assessments made during the year ending with the 1st day of June.

III. Industrial Statistics for the calendar year. (The reports of the mine inspectors are included in this volume.)

IV. Railroads, Canals, and Telegraphs, compiled from the returns made by the several corporations for the calendar year.

The increase of population and rapid development of the material resources of the Commonwealth, the multiplication and extension of corporate and individual enterprises, and the consequent swelling of the ranks of the industrial classes among our people, have created a demand for the reports far greater than can be supplied from the limited number allowed the Department for distribution among those entitled to receive copies and the general public. A larger edition should be printed, or the present method of distribution should be abandoned and a better one substituted. The larger reports printed by the United States Government are distributed by the departments issuing them. The adoption of a similar plan would be more economical for the Commonwealth, and would better meet the approval of the people than the present system.

The Preservation of Decaying Records.

Many original applications, warrants, surveys, and other ancient papers—invaluable links in the chain of original title to lands in every section of the Commonwealth—accumulated during the more than two centuries that have passed since the land-office was first opened, are becoming worn and defaced by the daily handling to which they are necessarily subjected in making searches and in preparing copies or connected drafts for parties interested in the tracts to which they relate. The flimsy paper upon which some of the documents were prepared has been falling into pieces for years, and, especially in cases in which inferior ink was used, it has become difficult and sometimes impossible to decipher the courses, distances, or other writing. A law, passed on the 16th day of February, 1833, authorizes the copying of the old returns of surveys or other ancient official papers, and, pursuant thereto, many papers have been copied and placed in the regular files. In cases of returns of surveys, some of the copies, by the folding and unfolding occurring in years of constant use, had become as much worn as the originals, and some better method of preservation became necessary. In 1856, the plan of copying old returns of surveys on sheets for binding into books was introduced, and since that time over eight thousand copies have been made and bound into sixteen volumes. The originals, suitably indexed, were filed away in bundles and thus saved from further wear and tear, except on rare occasions when it becomes necessary to refer to them. But, as no provision was ever made by law for a special clerical force to conduct this work, it could be done only in intervals of current business. Public attention has been called to the condition of these ancient papers in former annual reports, and the importance of their preservation warrants a reference to the subject from time to time until the General Assembly shall, in its wisdom, direct the adoption of such measures as will secure that end.

When county records, which nowhere are subjected to such frequent handling as those of the land-office, need to be copied or re indexed, power to do so is readily obtained through an order of the proper court and the expenses are defrayed from the county funds. But, in any of the public offices of the Commonwealth, similar work, if beyond the ability of the regular clerical force to accomplish, can be performed only by an appropriation made by the Legislature for that purpose. It is to be regretted that the General Assembly has hitherto given such matters too little attention. It is neither wise nor economical to defer the duty of properly caring for public archives at the risk of the ultimate obliteration or destruction of valuable papers, the loss of which could not be supplied.

It is not generally known that during the Rebellion, when there was danger of the capitol of the State falling into the hands of the Rebels, that all the archives of this Department were hastily packed in barrels, boxes, hogsheads, and other extemporized receptacles, and run by rail to a place of safety. On the removal of danger, they were returned to the city and restored to their former places. Some bundles, however, were accidentally broken open and the papers scattered, and, no doubt, a few were lost.

Papers out of File.

Following a system introduced more than one hundred and fifty years ago, the returns of surveys made on warrants or on "applications," or "orders," as they were sometimes called, are filed in bundles corresponding with the first letters of the surnames of the persons to whom the warrants, or, in cases of applications, to whom warrants of acceptance were issued, and in order of the dates when the surveys were returned for patenting. Thus each separate paper had its allotted place. If, however, by mistake or negligence, a paper was inserted in a bundle of corresponding letter, but out of chronological order, or in a bundle under a wrong letter, a protracted search was entailed, which, from the extent of the labor involved, had frequently to be abandoned before the missing paper was found. So much time was occupied in searches for surveys out of file that a thorough examination of all the bundles was instituted and is now in progress. Many papers found out of file have been restored to where they properly belong. The surveys copied into books, elsewhere referred to, are readily found by means of a convenient index. Applications for warrants and for patents, vouchers, returns for patenting, and other documents are filed away according to the ancient methods, and, like the surveys, are liable to become misplaced.

Patent Indexes.

Under the administration of General William McCandless the work of preparing new indexes for the patent-books, containing a brief reference to the land patented as well as the name of the patentee, was commenced, and has been continued, as other duties permitted, until the last volume is almost completed. The design in this work also included a general index, in which all the data obtained in preparing the separate ones should be incorporated. The plan will be carried out as rapidly as the current business of the Department will admit.

Canal Papers.

About sixty years ago, Pennsylvania commenced what has since become known as the State line of public improvements, consisting of a main line of railroads and canals, extending from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, with branches running in various directions. In the construction and use of these improvements, they were under the management and care of a board of Canal Commissioners. The office of the board became the depository of a vast accumulation of books and papers relating to the engineering, building, and operating of the railroads and canals. After the sale of the last of these improvements, the General Assembly, by an act approved on the 25th day of January, 1859, abolished the board of commissioners and directed that the papers and records of the office should be transferred to the custody of the Auditor General. In compliance with that act, the records were removed and remained in charge of that officer until during the present year. Under an act approved on the 26th day of February last, they were transferred to this Department, and have been placed in cases built for their reception.

The Election of County Surveyors.

By the holding of elections at times not authorized by law, useless expense and annoyance have been entailed upon candidates for the office of county surveyor, and a considerable amount of correspondence has been necessary by this Department in order to explain to the candidates and county officials that such elections were void.

By reference to the laws relating to county surveyors, inserted on subsequent pages of this report, it will be observed that next year (1886) will be the regular triennial time for the election of such officers. The terms of all of the present incumbents will expire on the first Monday in January, 1887, and the persons elected in 1886 will hold office from the first Monday in January, 1887, until the first Monday in January, 1890. Vacancies in the office can be filled only by appointment by the court of the proper county, and the appointees hold the office only for the unexpired term.

State Boundary Surveys.

Under authority conferred by acts of the General Assembly, passed in 1876 and subsequent years, the boundary lines between this Commonwealth and the States of New York, Ohio, and West Virginia have been re-surveyed and re-marked by the commissions appointed on behalf of Pennsylvania, acting in conjunction with commissions named by the other States. The field-work on all of these lines has been completed. The final report on the Ohio boundary was published two years ago; and that on the West Virginia meridian boundary was included in the report of this Department for 1884. It is expected that final reports on the New York lines and the West Virginia parallel boundary will be completed and filed early in the coming year, when they will be printed, together with the accompanying maps. Reports of progress are appended hereto.

By the several commissions, the northern lines of this Commonwealth, extending from the river Delaware to Lake Erie; the western line, from the lake to the south-western corner; and the southern line, from that corner eastward to the north western corner of Maryland, have been carefully examined, accurately resurveyed, and permanently marked. The line separating this Commonwealth from the State of Maryland, the historic Mason and Dixon's line, is in many places obliterated, and the necessity for re-marking the same is brought to the attention of the General Assembly. It is known that several of the monuments erected on the line were accidentally destroyed, and that in one or more cases they were deliberately removed and appropriated to private uses.

Geodetic Survey.

The results of the Geodetic Survey are of interest and permanent value to a large number of the citizens of the Commonwealth, and the report presented last year is, therefore, again published for general information. There have been added, through the courtesy of Prof. Mansfield Merriman, of Lehigh University, and Prof. Louis H. Barnard, of Pennsylvania State College, acting assistants in charge, accounts of the past season's operations.

Reports of the Second Geological Survey.

In 1883, under an arrangement made at the request of the Board of Commissioners of the Second Geological Survey, the reports and maps published by the Board then on hand, and those afterward printed, were transferred to this Department for sale to the public and for distribution among the libraries and other public institutions entitled by law to receive copies. In accordance with the directions contained in an act approved the third day of July last, the reports on hand were apportioned between the State Librarian, for distribution and exchange with other States and Territories, and the members of the Senate and House of Representatives. This Department, having been relieved of the custody of these reports, cannot hereafter fill any orders from persons desiring to purchase copies.

State Board of Health.

An act, approved the 3d day of June, 1885, provided for the appointment of six persons to form a "State Board of Health and Vital Statistics," and directed the Secretary of Internal Affairs to furnish such apartments and stationery as the Board might require in the discharge of its duties. The Board, among other duties, has the general supervision of the State system of registration of births, marriages, and deaths, of prevalent diseases, and of practitioners of medicine and surgery, in the several counties and in the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics at the capitol of the Commonwealth. The clerical duties and safe-keeping of this bureau are to be provided for by the Secretary of Internal Affairs. A meeting of the persons appointed by the Governor as members of the Board was held and an organization effected. Edward W. Germer, M. D., of Erie, was chosen president, and Benjamin Lee, M. D., of 313 South Fifteenth street, Philadelphia, secretary. For the present, all communications intended for the Board should be sent to the secretary at the above address.

Meridian Lines, Standard Measures, and Declination of the Magnetic Needle.

The usual circulars requesting information in relation to the erection of meridian lines and standard measures for testing surveyors' chains were forwarded to the several county surveyors and others. The points upon which replies were requested were:

1. Meridian line.

I. Location. II. When established. III. How marked.

2. Amount of present declination of the needle from the true meridian and progression since its establishment.

3. Note other reliable tests by retracing fixed and certain lines.

4. What additional legislation would you recommend to secure the greatest attainable accuracy in land-surveying and the preservation of boundary monuments?

5. Remarks and suggestions.

In reply to the circulars, the following communications were received:

BLAIR.—Samuel Ketterman, C. S.

ROARING SPRING, October 26, 1885.

2. A meridian line established on the county property at the alms house in 1854, by two stones set about 150 feet apart, in front of the building. In June, 1885, I compared my compass with the meridian line, and found from the south end its bearings to be N. 4 E., from the north and towards the south end S. 4½ W. Here is a difference of 30′, which is caused by local attraction. The monument at the north end of the line stands within 15 feet of the alms-house, which has three large windows with iron gratings and iron railings, while the southern end is about 60 feet from the building. I saw no standard measure. I test my chain at home. The yearly variation is about 4′ per year. Four degrees variation west would be correct from all that can be obtained.

3. My experience for the last thirty-two years: First surveys made in 1794, 1795. Variation, in 1855, two degrees west; now, in 1885, variation from $3\frac{1}{2}^\circ$ to 4° west. Surveys made by John Armstrong, who was appointed by Rich Tea, deputy surveyor for Cumberland county, to execute warrants in this district. Surveys made by John Armstrong on the waters of the Dunnings and elsewhere, in Bedford county, in 1763, variation in 1857, $\frac{1}{2}^\circ$ east. 1765, Samuel Finley succeeded John Armstrong in the district. Surveys made by him, variation in 1857–58, 1°, and some lines very little variation west. Variations of surveys of 1765, 1885, from $1\frac{1}{2}^\circ$ to 2° west. The variation of Maryland and Pennsylvania line in 1857–58, 2° west, now $3\frac{1}{2}^\circ$ west.

BRADFORD.—O. A. Gilbert, C. S.

ASYLUM, November 20, 1885.

1. Our county has a meridian line that was established several years ago, but it is now in the heart of the town, (Towanda,) and is surrounded by an iron fence on the north, a railroad track on the east, and a foundry on the south. All are so close that the line cannot be depended upon to test instruments.

4. I would recommend the passage of an act that would compel landowners to erect permanent corners and keep them in position, under penalty, and every deed should describe the corners. It is often the case that the boundaries of lands are described thus: "Bounded on the north by lands of J. Doe, on the east by J. Smith," etc., and say nothing about corners, distances, or courses. I would suggest that a law be enacted that would compel every surveyor to pass an examination and pay a license before he be allowed to survey land.

BUCKS.—David W. Hess, C. S.

SPRINGTOWN, PA., October 29, 1885.

1. The first meridian line was established in the court-house yard at Doylestown soon after the passage of the act of 1850, and was demolished at the time of the erection of the new court-house, nearly ten years ago. The second meridian line was established in December, 1884, in the same court-house yard, on the east side of the new court-house; the north end is a perpendicular line drawn on the south side of a stone monument about five feet high, and the south end is a point in metal placed in a flat stone laid even with ground, over which point the instrument is to be placed in sighting to the perpendicular line on the north monument.

In the commissioners' office is a standard measure of wood, eleven feet long, being one third of a two-pole chain, and one sixth of a four-pole chain, with which the surveyor is to adjust his chain. In the same office is a book kept in which each surveyor of the county is to make his annual entries of the variation of his instruments and the adjustment of his chain, etc.

2. The declination of the needle in my instrument in April, 1885, (according to the recent established meridian line,) was 7° 5′ west.

I have no notes of the progression of the declination during the time of the first above-mentioned meridian line, nor of the second, it being too recent.

4. I would recommend to have a true meridian line established in every township, at a place free from local attraction, for the purpose of comparing declination with the county meridian line.

BUTLER.—B. F. Hilliard, C. S.

NORTH HOPE, November 3, 1885.

1. Meridian line established 1874 marked by iron pins inserted in the west wall of the county jail. Standard measure for testing chains on wall of jail. N. M. Slater and James Dunlap established the meridian points. Meridian will have to be changed to some other location, as the erection of the new county buildings renders it an unfit point on account of local attraction.

2. Declination of needle of my transit, April, 1875, N. 1° 30′ W.; April 19, 1884, same instrument, 1° 55′ W.; October 31, 1885, 1° 57′ 30′′ W. All observations, eight o'clock, A. M. Annual motion, 0° 02′.5 and 2′.6.

3. Lines run since 1815, an allowance of 2°.6. Will re-run them correctly.

4. Every one who follows land-surveying to take an oath in open court to make all surveys faithfully and correctly, to the best of his ability, and impartially between all men. Surveyors to be empowered to administer an oath to all chainmen, whom they or other parties may employ, to do their duties correctly and to the best of their ability. Each surveyor to be furnished with a docket, at the cost of the county, fit for the purpose of plotting all surveys made by him, with courses and distances fairly and correctly marked; also, distances of intersecting lands, streams, roads, railroads, with courses of their cardinal direction, and to insert the variation of the needle from the true meridian. And on or before the first day of January, each year, surveyors to make an accurate copy of all plots of surveys made during the year on drawing paper or vellum, size to be uniform, and county commissioners to cause the same to be bound with all other surveys of said year in a book and to be kept in said commissioners' office for reference; county to pay for said copy. Surveyors to set corners of stone, all parties interested to be present, and, if the parties agree, the same to be considered as a valid acknowledgment as in any court of record, and surveyor shall make an entry of the same in his docket. In the plot, the surveyor should witness all corners with permanent objects; if trees, to mark the same distinctly with three notches, facing said corner, with course and distance, and mark same in plot and docket.

5. Would suggest the use of steel tape-lines in place of chain. Young, and many others, make such tapes graduated in feet or links. Meridian should be established in every township, if possible, or known lines from the meridian. Surveyors not to allow unreliable men as chainmen, as nine tenths of the mistakes in surveys in the past is the fault of bad chaining.

BUTLER, November 3, 1885.

Hon. J. SIMPSON AFRICA.

DEAR SIR: There is much difference of opinion about the variation of the needle among surveyors, and much variance in the reports from the different counties as published in the reports of the land office. The line of no variation bears, according to the best authorities, about N. 26° 30′ W., and it seems reasonable that east and west of this line there would be parallel lines which would be lines of equal variation. Seventy-five years have scarcely gone by since the line of no declination was in western Pennsylvania, and it seems to have had from the best observers a uniform motion to the west since 1810 to 1819. I now give from the tables date of operations by the Coast Survey, Professor Loomis and others at different points, and also the same points from the table of reports as published by the land-office.

Near Brownsville, Fayette county, Latitude, 40° 00′: Longitude, 79° 48′: A. D. Bache, observer, 1840, variation, 0° 25′ W.

Mr. Schott, 1862, same point, variation, 1° 14′ W. Period, twenty-two years, giving as the annual motion°. 02′ 22′′ per year.

Uniontown, Fayette county, A. J. Gilmore, observer, 1884, variation, 3° 18′ W. Thomas Hazen, 1884, 2° 54′ W.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, 1840, A. D. Bache, observer. A point Latitude 40° 28′, Longitude, 80° 00′, variation, 0° 8′ W. Nearly same point in 1884, Mr. Hemmings, observer, variation, 2° 41′ W.; comparing with observations would give an annual motion 3′ 30″.

Erie, computed by Mr. Schott of the Coast Survey, Latitude, 42° 07′, Longitude, 80° 06′, 1790, 0° 42′ E.; 1800, same, 1810, 0° 36′ E.; 1820, 0° 18′ E.; 1830, 0° 01′ 48″ W.; 1840, 0° 26′ W.; 1850, 0° 54′ 36″ W.; 1860, 1° 23′ 24″ W.; 1870, 1° 52′ 12″ W.; 1880, 2° 18′ 36″ W.

Erie, 1841, A. D. Bache, observer, 0° 30′ W.; 1862, Schott, observer, variation, 1° 33′ W.

I mail this to you in addition to report, and if you deem it of sufficient general interest, insert it with report. It is to be hoped that no one will feel himself criticised by the use of any observations that are compared. We must expect a large margin of difference in different observers, and the instruments used. I will merely call attention to the fact that defects of centering of needle, dull centre pin, eccentricity of sights, and loss of magnetism, go a great way to account for the differences of recorded observations; and further, different needles may have different magnetic intensity, and may point more truly in the direction of the magnetic meridian than others.

Respectfully,

B. F. HILLIARD.

CLARION.—James M. Owens, C. S.

1. Some years ago there was a meridian line established in this county, near the north end of the old court-house, but unfortunately on private ground, on which a house has been built so close to the stone as to make it impossible to set an instrument on it. The other end was the corner of a brick building, so that the line is useless for the purpose of testing instruments.

2. There has been a book kept for the purpose of recording the declination of the needle, but it has been mislaid. I have seen the book, but the court-house burned down and the book has not been found. If we can induce the commissioners to think as we do, we will have one before another report comes out.

3. I find, from taking observations on two fixed lines at my home, that the variation for 1883 was 3′, and for 1884 2′ 50′′. Observations taken in the months of April and November. I use a Gurley compass, with telescope attachment.

4. So far as I am concerned, I would heartily concur in any legislation, that wiser heads than mine would suggest, that would serve to make surveys uniform and corners indelible.

CLEARFIELD.—E. C. Read, C. S.

CLEARFIELD, PA., November 9, 1885.

1. No meridian line has been established yet. I had hoped to be able to have one established, but our commissioners have declined to do so, on account of the large outstanding county debt.

3. I have found in retracing old lines, that in some localities the declination of the needle is 3° 30′ from the lines found upon the ground and returned as having been run north and south in 1794, while in other localities I found lines of 1785 that require the same amount of variation to run. I have also found quite a difference in lines bearing the same date, and being within 2 miles of each other, and belonging to the same block of surveys. In one instance, I find the lines on the eastern and western ends of the same tract that differ 36′ from each other in bearing, and both lines were run at the time the survey was returned; so that retracing old lines for the purpose of ascertaining the progress of the needle from the true meridian is not a reliable method.

4. I have nothing new to recommend under this head, as my last year's report gives my ideas on this subject, and I therefore refer you to it.

FRANKLIN.—John B. Kaufman, C. S.

Average, 3° 55′ 22.5″ west. Maximum difference = 1° 38′. Average declination last year, 3° 55′ 36″, showing a slight decrease, but this is caused principally by the result of one instrument not tested before, which indicated 2° 45′ only, and thereby materially lowered the average. Perhaps a closer approximation would be obtained by comparing the results of the instruments that were tested both years. Of these there are six, which show an average progression of 2′ 59″, or 3′ nearly. If four of these be taken that were tested on the same day last year, and also on the same day this year, viz: Those of George M. Stenger, John B. Kaufman, John W. Kuhn, and F. J. Pfontz, we have an annual change of 4′ 22.5″. The wide divergence shown between instruments tested the same day is a little startling, and somewhat discouraging, though not altogether unexpected. It, however, is no argument against the desirability of every surveyor making his tests every year, and on the same day. If it has not shown greater uniformity in results than if scattered over a whole season, and all hours of the day, it has shown us what disagreements there are in the pointings of different needles when brought together and compared with each other. We now know what those differences are, for it is just as bad to have them neutralized, covered up or hidden, as to have them apparently augmented, or shown greater than they really are—one is every whit as bad as the other. If the law were observed by ALL engineers and surveyors, we would soon learn which needles are most at fault, and could know what reliance could be placed upon their readings, or what allowances (approximately) to make, which, in the end, would lead to more uniform results in practice. So long as needle instruments will be used, I say emphatically let the law be observed, and let these tests be made on the same day, in the presence of each other. Another thing can be learned from the above results, and that is how unreliable and misleading the needle may become. The best and most sensitive of needles often play strange pranks, how much more so those that are out of order and out of adjustment. These surveyors' meetings, however, will have a tendency to weed out those old worn-out instruments, which will be one step at least in the right direction. It had this effect in one or two cases already.

3. On the 8th of July last, between the hours of one and two, P. M., I made very careful observations on my meridian line at home. The terminal points are over 19,000 feet apart, and the point from which I observed is believed to be free from local attraction. The observation was repeated twenty times: ten with the compass-box turned north and the telescope direct, and the remainder with the box turned half way around and the telescope reversed. The limb of the instrument and the variation circle were both clamped to zero. The angle between the magnetic and true north was turned off and read from the vernier of the limb; this was repeated till the plate had been moved 38° 57′, which, divided by ten, the number of observations, gave 3° 53′ 42″. Then the same thing was done with the box turned half way around, and the telescope reversed, giving an angle of 39° 22′ 40″ for ten observations, or 3° 56′ 16″; the mean of these would be 3° 54′ 59″, as the declination at half past one, P. M., of that day. But subjected to the test of least squares, the first series would be liable to a probable error for a single observation of 1′ 20″, and the second series to a probable error of 59.5″, and adjusting these values according to their weights, the adjusted declination would be 3° 55′ 21″, as the most probable value of the observations. A better time would have been, say, between ten and eleven, A. M., but for some cause or other it did not suit me to select that time. About six, P. M., the same evening, I found the needle to vary 3° 53′ 30″. I would advise my fellow-surveyors to establish and mark a true meridian at their homes wherever practicable, and frequently compare their instruments with it, and make a record of their tests: they will find them very useful, as I know from personal experience.

4. For seven or eight years past, a division of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, first under the direcfion of Professor L. M. Haupt, and later under Professor Mansfield Merriman, has been engaged in a geodetic survey, laying down and determining a system of triangles and quadrilaterals in south-eastern Pennsylvania, but as there are some sixteen or eighteen similar sections or corps engaged in just such work, as well as coast work, in other portions of the Union, it is believed that the appropriations distributed among the various parties in the field are inadequate to do much work in this State, in any particular locality. But if our State Legislature would appropriate each year an amount as large only as is now allotted to the corps at work in Pennsylvania, much more work could be done each year, and the network carried over the State more expeditiously: or it might enable another party to make a secondary triangulation of smaller triangles in the territory already gone over by the primary triangulation, that might, in the not very distant future, become available in making land surveys by triangulation by our more accomplished surveyors. The sooner this is done, the sooner may we hope to have very accurate surveys of the boundaries of real estate. The fears that many well-meaning persons entertained—that surveys made by triangulation would unsettle lines and disturb vested rights, causing strife and litigation—may as well be dismissed. Surveys of this kind would not, and should not, change existing lines or corners any more than now, but would represent them as they are, instead of as they have been incorrectly described: in fact, the effect would be the reverse, and would tend to harmony and good will. I would favor legislation that would discourage the use of the needle in all important surveys, discarding the plain compass in determining boundary lines: require the use of instruments by which angles can be measured independently of the needle; laws requiring permanent marks to designate corners; laws restraining adjoining land-holders from removing tree land-marks, even by agreement, as is too often done in many localities, making their removal a penal offense. I would also favor legislation that would require the substitution of the tape or other improved measuring appliances for the ever-changing, clumsy chain.

5. I would again respectfully suggest to every surveyor not already having one, to establish, or have established, at his home, a true meridian, or, if a meridian is not practicable, a well defined line of known azimuth from which the declination can be ascertained with equal facility: to frequently test his needle on said line, and record the date and result in a book kept for the purpose, for future reference. When he resurveys tracts from old surveys that seem accurate, to ascertain the variation between the dates of the surveys, record also the dates and the declination of both old and new surveys. If this were done by surveyors generally, in the course of ten or twenty years, most surveyors would be in possession of quite a mass of very valuable data and facts that would enable them to construct variation charts, graphically, that would prove extremely useful, convenient, and interesting, Or they could, by one of the various methods of interpolation, calculate a table for use in the field, which would show the declination approximately for any year, and what allowance to make for variation by inspection, saving loss of time and some perplexity. The writer has used one since 1878, and found it quite convenient and tolerably accurate in most localities not too far from home. Surveyors will do well to become thoroughly familiar with the changes of their own needles, and the performance of those whose lines they may have occasion to retrace, and to call into requisition every aid within reach to insure accuracy in retracing old lines, for in all probability, it will be several years yet before triangulation or other improved methods will supersede the present imperfect ones, though much to be desired. There is little doubt that this would sooner come to pass, but for the unwillingness of so many surveyors to lend a helping hand in the good work. "United we stand; divided we fall." We must work hand in-hand to succeed; but let no one become discouraged. Reform of any kind is a plant of slow growth at first, and these reforms in surveying are no exception, and it requires patience, perseverance, and the faculty of looking at the sunny side of things, on the part of its friends, and time for the cause to gain strength, but sooner or later these reforms will eventually make the profession of the surveyor what it ought to be now.

UPPER STRASBURG, October 23, 1885.

In my report dated the 23d instant, which I send herewith, I alluded to some observations I made on a meridian line at home, on the 8th day of July last, between the hours of one and two, P. M. The line is something over nineteen thousand feet in length, and instrument is a W. & L. E. Gurley Surveyors' Transit, with solar attachment. Ten observations taken with telescope direct, and ten reversed, with the north point of the box south. The ends of the needle cut the zero marks very well.

The readings were taken off the limb and repeated on different parts of the circle. Below is a record of the observations and calculation of probable errors by least squares :

Probable error of mean observation, $r=.6745\sqrt{\frac{126180}{90}}=\pm\ 25.2''$ $r=.6745\sqrt{\frac{70190}{10\times 9}}=\pm 18.8''$

In order to ascertain the comparative precision of each series, their weights must be employed. These are inversely as the squares of their probable errors. Hence the weights of these means are in the ratio $\frac{1}{18.8^2}:\frac{1}{25.2^2}$, or as 20 to 11 nearly. The difference of the means is 2′ 34″, or 154″, of which $\frac{20}{31}\times\frac{154}{1}=1'\ 39''$ must be added to 3° 53′ 42″ to give the adjusted value 3° 55′ 21″, or $\frac{11}{31}\times\frac{154}{1}=55''$ deducted from the average of the second series, giving the same result. The probable error of this adjusted value $=18.8\sqrt{\frac{20}{31}}=15''$. Hence the final adjusted value is 3° 55′ 21″± 15″, and it appears that the second series is somewhat more precise that the first.

I am well aware that the hour selected was not the best, as it was the very hour when the deflection by the diurnal variation generally is the greatest, and I would have preferred an earlier hour, say between ten and eleven, A. M., as the needle doubtless was to some extent affected by the diurnal change. Observations taken about six in the evening, though fewer in number, averaged 3° 53′ 30″, showing more nearly the normal condition of the needle for that day. In case the needle is not well centered, it would be advisable to bring each end of the needle successively to zero and record the mean reading each time. If the transit has two verniers, and they should disagree, the mean should also be taken for the true angle shown. Instead of turning off all the angles (as I did) to the right, it might be some advantage to turn off and read one half of them to the left, as it might neutralize the effects produced by slipping of plates, friction of cap of needle on partially dulled center-pin, inexactness in pointing, &c. Thus, in twenty observations, we might take them in four groups. First five times, with north point toward the magnetic north, telescope direct and turn angle to the right. Five times, with north point and telescope same as before directed on true meridian, reading angle towards magnetic north to the left. Then turn the instrument, (or if preferred the upper plate) 180°, with telescope reversed, read five times to the right and five times to the left, and find the general mean as above indicated by the method of least squares. By this method, the delicacy and degree of precision of the needle can be determined very satisfactorily. If the observer had plenty of time at command, by making observations early in the morning, at noon, and again in the evening, a still closer approximation of the declination could be obtained by combining the results. It is to be hoped that many of our professional brethren may be sufficiently interested in the subject to make oft repeated and careful observations at their county meridians, and their meridians at their homes, and keep a full record in permanent form for future use. It requires some time and a good deal of care, it is true, but is it not worth a little sacrifice of time and labor when we consider the advantages that may be derived from reliable data and statistics thus obtained? I have given an example and the manner of performance as well as recording the result and finding the probable error, not that it is the best that can be devised, but a plan by which, with care, the average surveyor and engineer may obtain the amount of declination with a fair degree of accuracy.

I am very truly yours,

JOHN B. KAUFMAN.

4. The report of John B. Kaufman of Franklin county, for the year 188?, covers the ground on this subject.

FULTON.—Jonas Lake, C. S.

LAIDIG, December 3, 1885.

1. Described in former report.

2. Five instruments have been tested at the county meridian with the following results recorded:

A. J. Fore's	compass, November 12, 1884.	4°		West.
George Holly's	" April 7, 1885.	4°	10′	"
James Pott's	" " 8, "	4°	5′	"
Wm. P. Gordon's	" June 10. "	1°	¼′	"
Jonas Lake's	" November 6, 1885.	4°	10′	"

4. There should be a more correct method of establishing and marking corners instead of simply driving a stake and saying, "I will plant a stone or a tree of some kind." I would suggest that all boundary lines be marked and corners planted of some suitable material, such as a stone of another kind, as on red shale land a limestone, or on limestone land a sandstone, set by the surveyor himself in the presence of both parties interested. No lines or corners should be established without the presence of both persons.

There should be a more correct method of chaining, as many times the surveyor must run without a flagman: he then has no chance to watch his chainmen, who many times become careless and tired, and they will not stretch their chain tight at all and will have every line too long. Every chainman and surveyor should be sworn, and I believe it would be profitable to the land owners in the future for each surveyor to have his own corps of chainmen, flagmen, &c.

5. I heartily agree with Mr. Laird, of Lycoming county, in regard to the transferring certain duties to the county surveyor relating to the establishing of county roads, bridges, &c.

HUNTINGDON.—J. Murray Africa.*

JEFFERSON.—Abner Spyker, C. S.

BROOKVILLE, October 22, 1885.

2. A meridian line was established in the borough of Brookville, on the public ground known as the Church lot, April 4, 1851. At that time the needle varied 1° W. of N. April, 1885, variation of needle, 3° 25′, marked by stone pillars in the ground. A standard measure of a two-pole chain is also deposited in the commissioners' office. Present declination, 3° 25′; progression since its establishment, 2° 25′; progression, about 7′ per year. Lines that were run in the year 1793 trace now in the true meridian. There are still some of our surveyors in this county who do not adhere to the law in adjusting their instruments. If all surveyors would adjust their instruments, there would be less trouble and litigation.

4. I would recommend a law to compel stone pillars at all corners; it would save a great deal of trouble in the future.

JUNIATA.—B. F. Burchfield, C. S.

November 6, 1885.

1. No meridian line established in the county. No meridian line has been established since building of new court-house in 1873. Old line was established, as I am informed, in rotunda of court-house. I have called the attention of the county commissioners, both old and new boards, to the fact, and their attention to the law; and, also, to the fact that the records of the office are in bad condition from the former practice of removing records from place to place in the county to different residences of county surveyors, but have not been able to get them to have either meridian line and chain measure established, or any arrangement by which the records can be restored and preserved.

3. Tests are made by retracing old well-marked and known lines.

NORTHAMPTON.—Milton H. Cole, C. S.

November 6, 1885.

1. We have no meridian line established in this county: neither have we a standard measure for testing the chain.

2. As we have no meridian established, I am unable to give the true declination of this vicinity. The annual progression, however, appears to be about three and one half minutes.

3. I find that surveys made in this vicinity in the years 1809 and 1810 generally do not admit of any variation.

4. Under this head I have nothing new to add. My views have been given in last year's report. As I said then, I say again, that I would recommend legislation that will secure the use of better instruments and a certain standard of qualification for practicing. The profession would then rise in dignity, and surveyors could take their time, and do their work right. The law of 1850 is not what it ought to be. It ought either to be made more imperative or superseded by something better. It directs the commissioners to establish a meridian line, but there is no penalty that will compel them to do it. As regards the preservation of boundary monuments, the only thing I can suggest is, that surveyors, when surveying a new tract, should be compelled to set corners, and not drive stakes, as is generally done.

5. I would suggest that a law be passed allowing surveyors four dollars per day while attending court as witnesses in land cases. Parties are often contending for a strip of land or a tree that is hardly worth five dollars, and the consequence is that they go to court, where the case is continued from one term to another. For the sake of the foolishness of such persons, the surveyor has often to lose several weeks' time attending court, and gets about as much as his board. I say let such persons pay for their foolishness. It is generally the case that those who are the most negligent about their boundary monuments are the most troublesome.

PERRY.—William J. Stewart, C. S.

1. No meridian line established in Perry county, nor any fixed standard measure.

2. No authentic records to obtain data.

3. None that can be depended upon. The mean annual progression westward is about 3.41′.

4. The same as in my last report.

5. I will call the attention of our county commissioners to the matter of the act of 1850 at their next meeting, and shall urge its importance upon them.

PIKE.—John Layton, C. S.

October 31, 1885.

1. These questions have been answered several times, and as there has been no alteration since, I deem it useless to repeat.

2. From the fact that iron water-pipes now abound near the monuments, it is utterly impossible to answer this question.

3. Since my last report, I retraced some lines of a tract in the warrantee name of Henry Drinker, in Shohola township, surveyed in 1787, and found the declination to be 4° to the west of north or $3\frac{1}{13}'$ per annum. One of said lines, 140 rods long, calls for a white oak at one end and at the other end a chestnut. The white oak was questionable, but the chestnut stood firm and erect, and its thick, rugged bark showed plainly the marks made by the axemen nearly five-score years ago. To fortify this "ancient landmark" against the forest fires, we made a large pile of stones around the base. The next line run to a stone corner, which was found intact on a steep bluff. There were no marks around either of the corners to show that any one had seen them since the date of the survey, though false corners were found by us twenty-two rods out of place.

4. I do not see that I can add anything to what was said in my remarks on this point in my report last year.

SCHUYLKILL.—J. F. Staudt, C. S.

KEPNER, November 9, 1885.

1. When the law was first enacted, stones were set by Samuel Lewis and P. W. Sheafer. I tested my compass November 5, 1885. It varied $4\frac{3}{4}°$ west at ten o'clock. Could not find a standard for the chain.

4. Would advise the enforcement of the act.

SOMERSET.—William Baker, C. S.

SOMERSET. November 20, 1885.

1. For description of line, &c., see report of 1878, (page 31,) and report 1883, (page 32.)

2. The average variation of all the instruments tested April, 1883, made the variation about 3° 20′. My compass indicated 3° 15′, and has changed very little, if any, since. The average progression since 1880 has been about 4′ a year west, except the last year, which showed no perceptible change.

3. I know of none that can be relied on. We have few fixed and certain lines. I run random lines when courses are known and calculate variation.

4. I think a thorough triangulation of the State should be made and the land lines adjusted thereby. In my opinion, this is the only legislation necessary, and that will effect the greatest attainable accuracy. The act of 1850 is a dead letter as it stands, even where lines are erected and measures established. Few of the local surveyors take the trouble to adjust their instruments, and, I think, additional legislation to said act would be useless. Better repeal that act and supersede it by something better.

UNION.—John R. Follmer, C. S.

ALLENWOOD, November 11, 1885.

2. I find the declination west the same as my last report 3′. I find annual declination of about 3′ in all lines which I run some years ago.

4. I would recommend same legislation as in last report. I would also recommend the suggestion of the Hon. C. D. Eldred in the latter part of the report of John S. Laird, Esq., county surveyor. He states facts concerning county bridges and county and township roads which are incontrovertible, as thousands of dollars are expended annually for work on roads and bridges that is of no benefit to the public, but, in some cases, a nuisance, Judge Eldred is an excellent surveyor and a man of a great deal of experience in county and township affairs, and his suggestions or recommendations ought to be carefully considered by our legislators. The Legislature should enact such laws as would give the people some assurance that the money expended on roads would be for their benefit.

WARREN.—D. F. A. Wheelock, C. S.

PITTSFIELD, October 27, 1885.

1. The above questions were fully answered in my report of 1883.

2. The records of different instruments this year are as follows: One instrument, a transit, tested April 6, 4° 10′ W. Another instrument, same pattern as above, and at the same time, 3° 45′ W. A compass, at the same time, 4° W. A transit, April 20, 10.30, A. M., 3° 45′ W. The same transit, made by Stackpole, was recorded as 3° 40′ W. in 1884, and 3° 40′ in 1883. Another transit, April 23, 9.50, A. M., this year, a record of 3° 50′ W. A compass has a record of 3° 45′ W., April 25, at 11.15, A. M., which showed 3° 35′ W. in 1884. A compass, May 4, 1885, at 11, A. M., has record of 3° 36′ W., and the same for 1884. So, you see, from so varied a record it is hard to fix any one variation as a standard, yet I am of the opinion that the annual progression is very near 4′ here.

3. In tracing a line run two years ago, I found, by allowing an annual change of 4′, I could follow it very closely.

4. See report for 1883.

5. I hope next year to give you a more definite report, if I can carry out arrangements now in progress.

WAYNE.—L. S. Collins, C. S.

CHERRY RIDGE, November 11, 1885.

1. Contained in former reports. A standard of measure for two and four-pole chains has been marked on the granite base of the court-house, made from a duplicate of the standard yard in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

2. The declination of the magnetic needle in 1855, as shown by the mean of a test of six compasses on the old meridian line at that date, was 5° 30′ west.

Below is a transcript of the records kept in the commissioners' office of the test of compasses for the year, as follows:

NAME OF SURVEYOR.	Instrument.	Date.	Hour of day.	State of weather.	Declination. Deg. Min.
Homer Young, . . .	6-in. vernier compass.	April 9, 1885.	2, P. M.	. . . . .	7 26 W.
Ephraim Kimble, . .	6-in. vernier compass	April 14, 1885.	3.30, P. M.	. . . . .	7 30 W.

Moses T. Young, . .	5-in. vernier compass.	April 17, 1885.	9.30, A. M.	. . . . .	7 00 W.
L. S. Collins, ...	6-in. vernier compass.	April 17, 1885.	2, P. M.	Clear.	7 35 W.
Goodrich & Sherred.	Compass.	April 21, 1885.	11, A. M.	Calm and clear.	7 36 W.
Thomas F. Boyd, . .	Compass.	May 14, 1885.	1.30, P. M.	. . . . .	7 45 W.*
E. V. Dimmick, . .	Compass.	June 11, 1885.	10.20, A. M.	. . . . .	7 30 W.
Charles Avery, . . .	Plain compass.	May 4, 1885.	6, A. M.	. . . . .	7 30 W.

* Probably plain compass.

The above tests give an average declination of 7° 25′ 49″ for the month of April, (mostly) 1885, and a change or progression since April, 1855, of 1° 55′ 49″, and a mean annual progression of 3′ 52″ for thirty years.

4. Perhaps, by requiring that a copy of draft and notes, &c., taken in the field, showing date of survey, whether official or otherwise, and circumstances connected therewith, should be filed in some public office, in the proper county, (say county surveyor's,) might be of future use in affording a more ready means of obtaining reliable date, easily accessible in regard to surveys, which all know it is now so difficult to arrive at, where deeds now, as a general thing, do not give any date of survey or circumstances in regard to it, aside from the bearing and distance of the lines.

[REMARKS.—A common source of error, overlooked by most engineers and surveyors, and one to which many of the differences in the readings of needle instruments may be attributed, is that the meridian of the graduated compass-box does not coincide with the line of sight. This error can be corrected only by the instrument-maker, and should be avoided before any instrument leaves the manufactory.—J. S. A., Sec. Int. Aff.]

NEW YORK BOUNDARY.

Major H. W. CLARKE, Engineer in charge.

SYRACUSE, NEW YORK.

Upon the 7th and 8th of September, 1884, I took the following readings of the magnetic needle upon the meridian of station Clark. This station is in Erie county, Pennsylvania, 5,480 feet east of the south-west corner of New York, and $69\frac{3}{10}$ feet south of the boundary line. It was occupied, and the meridian permanently marked in July, 1877, by Assistant Edwin Smith, of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The latitude of this station is 42° 00′ 00″.79 ± 0.″09.

Upon the dates mentioned, I left my transit standing on the station, and at intervals during the twenty-four hours, (except in the night,) measured the angle between the magnetic meridian and the meridian of the station with the vernier and circle of the instrument, with the following results:

September 7, 1885,	8+ o'clock,	3° 12′	September 7, 1885,	$15\frac{1}{4}$ o'clock,	3° 27′
	9	3 17		16	3 25

	13:40	3 $29\frac{1}{2}$		7	3 15
	14+	3 29		7:45	3 12

The day (7th) was quite warm and sultry until about 17 o'clock, when a distant thunder storm cooled the air, and undoubtedly occasioned the slight magnetic disturbance noticed at 18 o'clock.

In addition to the above, I submit the following observations, made upon the Meridian Boundary (western boundary of New York) during July of last summer. The longitude of this boundary is 79° 45′ 45.″26 west from Greenwich. Its length is $18\frac{66}{100}$ miles, the milestones being numbered from the initial monument on the bank of Lake Erie. The line upon which the bearings were taken was a random transit line, run in the true meridian from milestone 3, south to the "Corner." No observations were taken the past season north of milestone 3.

PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW YORK BOUNDARY SURVEY.

REPORT OF PROGRESS FOR 1884.

Colonel JAMES WORRALL, Chairman of the Joint Boundary Commission:

SIR:—I have the honor to submit a brief report of our operations during the past season upon the New York and Pennsylvania boundary.

As was suggested in my report of last fall, we resumed operations upon the 7th April. Colonel Gere and myself met our party at Lanesboro', Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania, and after providing the necessary tools and tackle proceeded to Hale's Eddy. The large terminal monuments which were ordered last fall had been shipped during the winter, and that for the eastern extremity was awaiting us at that point. Colonel Gere and myself had decided upon special monuments for marking the Coast Survey Astronomical stations as directed by the joint commission, and these had also been shipped. During our stay of two days at Hale's Eddy, we successfully placed the eastern or initial monument in position upon the right bank of the river, 600 feet west of the center of the channel, west of the road along this bank, 2,025 feet west of Station Travis and 4.825.6 feet east of milestone

1. It is in full view at a distance from the Erie railway, but is likely soon to be hidden by bushes and briars. A monument was also set to replace the pier at astronomical station Travis, and one also at the intersection of an eastward prolongation of the boundary with the meridian of the station. The latter monument is 81.6 feet south of the station. The monuments prepared by us, at the suggestion of the Superintendent of the Coast Survey, for marking the astronomical stations, were blocks of granite 12 inches square and 18 inches high, dressed only upon the top, which is marked with the name of the station and the year in which it was occupied; a cross in the center indicating the station point. Each of these monuments was buried 2½ feet under ground in place of the pier of the station. The number of stations thus marked is 13. After completing the work at Hale's Eddy, we returned to Lanesboro' and soon afterward started the party westward with the team, setting station monuments in place of the piers of astronomical stations Finn, Little Meadows, Waverly, Burt, Lawrenceville, Austinburg, and Genesee Valley, reaching Ceres, where we suspended operations last year, towards the end of April. The terrible condition of the roads along the route was the occasion of considerable delay. This condition embarrassed us through the month of May also. A careful resurvey of the section from milestone 139 to the west of the Allegheny river was made before any monuments were set, and during its progress 4 original milestones, which were not found in 1878, were discovered at obscure points, but each evidently in place. The discovery of these simplified the problem of adjustment of that section. They were milestones 143, 145, 152, and 154. The resulting line here is quite crooked, but it is probably adjusted satisfactorily to every one. A sketch (No. 1) of this section, with latitude and scale exaggerated, is appended. After setting the monuments upon this open section and at astronomical station Ceres, the work was pushed westward until the middle of September, when the "Corner" was reached. Before any monuments were set west of milestone 208, a complete and careful re-survey of the western end was made, but none of the missing milestones were found. From this survey, by the use of several authentic points fixed by the Holland Land Company in their survey eighty-six years ago, this vacant section of 17 miles was satisfactorily adjusted. Upon it, from milestone 219 to the "Corner," nearly six miles, is the longest stretch of straight line upon the Parallel Boundary. A sketch (No. 2) of this section, with latitude scale exaggerated, is appended. At the "Corner," beside setting the corner monument in the center of the road, a witness monument was set in the meridian by the road-side and a large terminal monument, similar to that erected at the initial point, was placed 100 feet north of the "Corner" upon a little knoll. We had intended to complete the entire boundary without another suspension and should have done so but for the unfortunate failure of the funds provided by Pennsylvania, which required New York to carry the work on alone as far as the "Corner," when the New York funds became exhausted. After setting a few monuments upon the Meridian Boundary, we disbanded our party and left the line.

Fifteen miles upon the Meridian Boundary, upon which are 36 monuments, yet remain untouched. This portion, with a small advance of funds, could have been covered and completed by the middle or latter part of October.

The entire number of monuments set this season is as follows, upon the Parallel Boundary:

Milestones,	85
Latitude stones, $167\frac{1}{10}$ and $195\frac{1}{8}$,	2
Highway monuments,	76

It is quite unfortunate that we could not complete the remainder of the line. The final maps and records for the remainder of the Parallel Boundary, embracing Potter, McKean, Warren, and Erie counties, in Pennsylvania, and Allegany, Cattaraugus and Chautauqua, in New York, will be prepared during the coming winter. I shall also prepare a detailed final report upon the parallel boundary during the time. A fair estimate of the probable cost of completing the work in the field, and the preparation of the records, maps, and notes, for future preservation, we fix at the aggregate sum of $2,000. The suspension of the work when so near completion has added materially to the probable expense. Annexed is a statement of the amounts expended, or assumed by the New York Commission, from 1st July to this date, which will need to be met by your commission.

Colonel C. M. Gere, of the Pennsylvania Commission, and consulting engineer, met me several times upon the line and expressed himself satisfied with the progress made. I regret his inability to be present at the erection of the terminal monument at the "Corner."

REPORT OF PROGRESS FOR 1885.

Honesdale, November 16, 1885.

Sir:—I have the honor to submit the report of progress of Major H. W. Clarke, the engineer in charge of the work of locating the boundary line between New York and Pennsylvania.

In consequence of the death of Colonel James Worrall, the chairman of this commission, there was much delay in getting the work started the past season; and on account of that delay, the final report, with copies of all the records connected with the work, will not be ready for publication in report of this year.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

Robert N. Torrey,

Chairman,

For C. M. Gere and R. N. Torrey,

Commissioners for the New York and Penn'a Boundary.

Hon. J. Simpson Africa,

Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg.

Colonel C. M. GERE and Captain ROBERT N. TORREY, Surviving Commissioners from Pennsylvania upon the New York and Pennsylvania Boundary.

GENTLEMEN:—In my report of progress, dated November 1, 1884, submitted to the late Colonel James Worrall, chairman of your commission, and which. unfortunately, owing to his confinement at home by his illness, failed to reach the hands of the Secretary of Internal Affairs in time to be included in his annual report, I detailed the progress made upon the boundary during the season of 1884, and the situation in which the work was left, giving briefly the reasons why the boundary work was not entirely completed in that year as was anticipated.

After leaving the field last fall, the succeeding months were employed in the completion of the records and series of maps, so far as they related to the parallel boundary. The preparation of a final report was also commenced. To this further reference will be made.

Owing to legislative delays, which seemed to be unavoidable, I was unable to take the field the past summer with my party until near the end of the month of June. My party assembled at Northville, near the northern extremity of the meridian boundary, and before resuming the work suspended the previous autumn, a portion of the work of the reconnoissance of 1878 was reviewed by a careful remeasurement of the distance of the original initial monument, from Dr. Peters' astronomical station of 1865, in order, if possible, to reconcile a discrepancy in distance in latitude found in his report.

The distances measured in 1878 were found to be substantially correct. The large monument placed in 1869, 440 feet south of the initial monument, having become seriously displaced by frost, was carefully and more permanently re-set in line. Upon the 27th day of June, I transferred the party to quarters near the seventh mile point, convenient to the boundary, and after a delay of two or three nights, succeeded in obtaining a repeated observation of Polaris at the eastern elongation, the direction of which was fixed upon the ground in the plane of the star, at the extremities of a line 1,492 feet in length. This was tested by another observation about a month afterward. The next morning (30th June), by measuring west from the north end of this line, the offset calculated from the azimuth of the star, a transit line was projected in the meridian, through the road which follows along the east side of the State line. This line was run north to a point near the five-mile stake, and, after being transferred by parallel offsets to the west side of the boundary, was extended north to milestone 3, where the work was suspended the season before. In the other direction, the initial transit random was extended south to the summit south of the eight-mile point, and there transferred to the west side of the boundary. From this point the line was run upon the west side of the State line, to within about a mile of the "Corner," where an additional offset to the west was found necessary for convenience in running. Frequent offsets were measured from the transit randoms to such stakes of the reconnoissance of 1878 as were found, and to various points in the boundary itself. Progress was quite expeditious until the line of heavy timber was reached, between the 13 and 14 mile points, south of which wind-falls and slashings rendered the work very tedious, and progress was necessarily slow.

Milestones 3 and 6, the old stake at the 9-mile point, and the stone with which the original 12 mile post had been replaced, were found to be in a line which varied but little (0.23 feet per mile west of south) from a meridian. It was quite apparent, from the results of my survey, that the north 13 or 14 miles of this line were originally very carefully run. As no field-notes, record, or diary of operations of the original survey of 1790 have ever been found either among Andrew Ellicott's papers, or in the departments at Washington, the methods employed in running this line are unknown. Mr. Ellicott, in a letter to Robert Patterson several years after*, in referring to the survey of the District of Columbia, speaks of a transit made by himself, which he used in running the western boundary of New York. The presumption is, that upon the northern portion of the line the transit was used altogether.

South of this, in the heavy, hard-wood timber, it seems quite evident that the original line was continued by the use of the compass, instead of the transit independent of the magnetic needle. None of the original milestones here were found, (except No. 17, which had been displaced,) but a number of points fixed and witnessed within eight years after the original survey, by Joseph Smedley, surveyor for the Holland Land Company, which were identified from the original witness trees, show that the south end of the meridian boundary wavered considerably and that the line in its entire length was not what it purported to be—a transit line. The "Corner" monument was found to be about thirty feet west of the line of 3-6-9-12 produced. A careful study of the line after the transit work had been completed showed that it would be impracticable to adjust it upon a meridian or upon a single straight line. The line 3-12 was therefore extended south to the fourteen-mile point and a straight line was drawn thence to the "Corner," making a deflection to the west of 4′+. The unknown mile points were fixed at equal distances between milestones 6 and 18, the latter being placed 0.66 miles north from the "Corner." This is the distance given upon the original map, which is the only known record of this boundary aside from the field-notes of the Holland Land Company. This adjustment of the distances brought the twelve-mile point almost exactly at the stone marking that point, and practically confirmed the statements of neighboring residents that it was set to replace the original mile-post, which had been known and recognized as authentic from the time the country was cleared. A slight deflection to the west exists at milestone 3, the line north of which was fixed and permanently marked before the suspension of the field-work in 1884.

The work of placing the monuments upon the lines thus established was at once commenced, and before August 1 they were all, thirty-six in number, set. The 9, 10, 14, 15, and 16 mile points were found to be unsuitable sites for monuments, three of them falling in beds of brooks, and these milestones were therefore set a few feet in line in either direction from the points, the changes being noted in the "Record." These milestones being in places somewhat inconvenient of access for reference, and liable also to possible disturbance from the elements, it was considered advisable to set intermediate monuments at several of the Holland Land Company's mile and half-mile points south of milestone 14.

The work of monument setting having been completed, a portion of the party was discharged and the remaining members were transferred to the eastern extremity of the Parallel Boundary, where they were occupied for several days at various points in obtaining additional details for the maps, records, and final report, and upon 10th August the field work upon the boundary was finally suspended.

The entire number of granite monuments set upon the boundary line between New York and Pennsylvania is shown in the following table, classified, and those upon the Parallel Boundary arranged by counties:

Of these, 42 were set in 1881, 182 in 1882, 98 in 1883, 227 in 1884, and 37 in 1885. Besides these, several old monuments, set since the original survey to mark land corners, have been reset in line. My final report, which is to be submitted to the joint commission, has been in course of preparation since the close of the field-work in 1884, and is now nearly completed. In it I have entered quite in detail into the history of the parallel boundary, and the disputes and discussions over it before it was finally established; giving a full account of the original survey so far as any details are known, and a history of the early land surveys in both States, adjacent to the boundary. A historical sketch of the Meridian Boundary is also given, and a detailed account of the operations upon the boundary under the present joint commission.

To the report will be added a series of Appendixes, among which are a schedule of monuments, describing the location and identifying marks of each milestone; a table of angular deflections; copies of original field notes, and several historical sketches. The investigations rendered necessary to make the report full and complete have been quite thorough, and all accessible sources of information have been freely consulted.

A series of maps of the boundary prepared to accompany the "Record of Monuments," showing the location of each new monument, has already been deposited with the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The "Record of Monuments," which contains detailed descriptions of each new monument and its location, is in course of preparation, and will be completed and submitted with the final report.

In closing this last formal communication, I wish to present my acknowledgments for the courtesy accorded me by the commission, during the time in which I have been connected with the survey of the boundary. More than eight years ago I became connected with the survey, as the representative of New York, and afterwards, at the request of your commission, the supervision of the work in the field was practically placed in my sole charge.

In all these years, through which, owing to various legislative delays, the work upon the boundary has slowly dragged, my relations with the commission have been uniformly harmonious. To Commissioner Gere, who has acted as surveyor on the part of Pennsylvania, I wish especially to express myself grateful for his coöperation during the entire time, my only regret being that he was unable to spend more time with me in the field. It is also a matter of sincere regret that Colonel James Worrall, the chairman of the joint commission, could not have been spared to see the completion of a work in which he took so great and absorbing interest.

Respectfully submitted.

Civil Engineer.

REPORT OF PROGRESS FOR 1885.

CANNONSBURG, December 2, 1885.

Hon. J. SIMPSON AFRICA,

Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg:

SIR: I have the honor to present report of progress of the West Virginia and Pennsylvania Boundary Commission, in compliance with acts authorizing revision of same.

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES McCULLOUGH,

Chairman.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA, November 30, 1885.

Hon. JAMES McCULLOUGH, Chairman, Pennsylvania and West Virginia Boundary Commission, Cannonsburg, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: As it will be impossible to finish the charts and make a full report on the completion of the survey of the parallel boundary between the States of Pennsylvania and West Virginia in time for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to have the publication made this year, I send you a preliminary report:

On the 3d of September I was detached from duty in Kansas and directed to take up the boundary survey. I immediately proceeded to Washington, D. C., to arrange for the instrumental outfit, having taken the earliest opportunity of notifying you and Mr. Hoge of the day on which I could be on the ground ready for field work. By September 15 I was at Point Marion, the rendezvous for the party. On the 17th I made observations from azimuth at the beginning of the fourth tangent, and was ready for slanting the line. As no assistant could be spared from the Coast and Geodetic Survey, it was necessary for me to both range out the line and afterwards measure it and locate all the old mounds and line marks.

The method of proceeding was exactly the same as on the first portion of the work in 1883. Indeed, the same instrument was used for making the astronomical observations and ranging out the line. Pocket heliotropes were also employed for long sights. The first forward point was located on the summit of the Laurel Hill, $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles distant, on September 23, after much clearing through the woods, and by October 8 the entire distance of $18\frac{1}{2}$ miles had been ranged out. It required eleven days to measure the distance back and locate all the old line marks, but five of these days it rained. By October 21, we finished measuring the fourth tangent, reviewed all the old points on the third tangent, and reached Mt. Morris ready for discharging the party.

On the last (fourth) tangent there were fourteen old mounds, and the line located by them bends back north quite rapidly, until at the Maryland corner it is only about 50 feet south of the theoretic course through the southwest corner of Pennsylvania. No correction was made in the line, but the monuments were set in the old mounds, and this last operation completed the field-work. I am engaged in making the charts and writing a full report of the survey, which will be submitted to the commission.

Yours respectfully,

C. H. SINCLAIR,
Assistant, Coast and Geodetic Survey.

THE GEODETIC TRIANGULATION IN PENNSYLVANIA.

By permission of the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, the following account has been prepared by Prof. Mansfield Merriman, of Bethlehem, Acting Assistant in present charge of the triangulation.

During the past nine years, the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, under the authority of Congressional enactment, has carried on in Pennsylvania the operations of a geodetic triangulation. As the field-work has been limited to two or three months in each year, the progress has not been rapid, yet it is believed that sufficient results have now been attained to render a statement concerning them of interest and value.

On the accompanying outline sketch of Pennsylvania are marked the stations and triangles as they exist at the present time. The stations are indicated by a point inclosed within a small circle, and to each is attached its name. The lines inclosing an angle are drawn full when that angle has been measured, and broken when it is yet unmeasured. It will be seen that within the limits of the State there are now forty stations.

The seven stations, Principio, Meeting-house, Bethel, Yard, Willow Grove, Newtown, and Mt. Rose, belong to a chain of primary triangles (not shown on the sketch) which connects the measured base on Long Island with that on the Chesapeake Bay. From these measured bases, the horizontal angles, and astronomical observations, the positions of these seven stations were many years ago accurately determined. The latitude and longitude of each is known, as also the azimuth and distance from each to the next. On the sketch is drawn a heavy line connecting the two stations Principio and Meeting-house, and also one joining Newtown and Mt. Rose. It is from these two fixed primary lines that all the Pennsylvania triangulation has been computed.

The field-work of the survey was in charge of Prof. Lewis M. Haupt from its inception in 1875 to the close of the season of 1880. During that period, he laid out the triangulation as represented in the sketch and measured the angles at thirteen stations. An interesting account of the methods of reconnoissance and triangulation is given by Prof. Haupt in the Proceedings of the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia. Vol. I, page 215.

It will be noticed that the main chain of triangles, starting from the line Principio-Meeting-house as a base, curves around in a horse-shoe shape to the other base, Newtown-Mt. Rose. The angle measurements on this chain having been completed in 1882, it was adjusted by the computing division of the Coast and Geodetic Survey office, and the geographical positions of the stations determined.

Below is given a brief statement of the location of the thirteen stations of this chain situated in Pennsylvania; they are usually marked by stone monuments or by bolts in the rock, and are well known by the people of the vicinity. For each station is given its latitude, its longitude west of Greenwich, the azimuths, or directions, to the neighboring stations, and the distances in meters. The azimuths are reckoned from 0° around to 360°, south being 0°, west 90°, north 180°, and east 270°.

The positions of the four primary stations, Bethel, Yard, Willow Grove, and Newtown, are also accurately known, thus making seventeen stations in Pennsylvania whose geographical positions are definitely fixed. In addition, the stations Winterstown and Round Top have been occupied, and the stations Dauphin, Swatara Gap, Bear's Head, and Pimple Hill have been observed upon from two or more points, so that their positions are approximately known. The other stations marked on the sketch have been selected on reconnoissance, but are not yet definitely marked.

Numerous angle measurements have also been made of the directions to church-spires and prominent buildings, in the principal towns and villages of the region covered by the triangulation, and whose positions have thus become known.

Progress of the Triangulation.

During the year 1884, the station Swatara Gap was occupied, and the angles at that point measured. In order to briefly describe the method of observation, it may be said that the instrument employed was a ten-inch repeating Gambey theodolite reading by two verniers to three seconds. The five lines radiating from Swatara Gap form ten angles, upon each of which sixteen sets of four repetitions each were made, eight sets being taken from left to right, and eight from right to left, while in each set two repetitions were made with the telescope in the direct, and two in the reverse, position. The number of measures was hence 640, the number of pointings 1,280, and the number of vernier readings 480.

The following are the observed and adjusted values of the angles at Swatara Gap, the average uncertainty or probable error of an observed value being 0″.45, and of an adjusted value 0″.29.

The instrument was placed upon a tripod about forty-five feet above the ground, around which an independent platform was built, so that the motions of the observer could not affect the theodolite. For signals, heliotropes were used at Round Top and Womelsdorf, and targets at the three other stations.

During the season, the tower at Dauphin was raised to a height of fifty-two feet. The stations Mexico and Doubling Gap were definitely located, the center marks put in, and towers erected over them. On examining the locality at Grave Ridge, it was found necessary to move the station to a hill about four miles distant, called Piney mountain, where the center marks were established and a tower erected. The station Green Ridge was also abandoned, and one selected in its place eight miles southward, at Mount Misery, about a mile south of the Maryland line. The quadrilaterals, shown in the sketch, are thus preserved without great changes in the angles, while from Mount Misery and Two-Top mountain a connection with the Maryland triangulation can be easily made at the stations Fairview, Maryland Heights and Sugar Loaf in that State. In this manner a second horse-shoe chain of triangles may be arranged for computation around to the base, Principio-Meeting House.

A reconnoissance was also begun between the seventy-fifth and seventy-seventh meridians to connect the stations along the Blue and Broad mountains with those in the State of New York. The peak called Penobscot knob, eight miles south of Wilkes-Barre, has been definitely selected as one of the stations, and it is thought that a good system of triangles and quadrilaterals can be laid out to the northward along the east branch of the Susquehanna.

U. S. COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY,
BETHLEHEM, PA., November 27, 1885.

HON. J. SIMPSON AFRICA,
Secretary of Internal Affairs:

DEAR SIR: Inclosed find the statement of progress of the geodetic work this season, the publication of which in your Land-Office Report is authorized by the superintendent.

Yours truly,

MANSFIELD MERRIMAN,
Acting Assistant.

Progress of the Triangulation in 1885.

In order to furnish points as rapidly as possible for the topographical work of the Second Geological Survey of Pennsylvania, the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey placed three parties in the field during the season of 1885. Assistant O. H. Tittmann was instructed to make a reconnoissance between the seventy fifth and seventy-seventh meridians, and lay out a scheme of triangulation to connect the stations on the Broad mountain with those of the New York State Survey, and also to measure the angles necessary for determining, with sufficient accuracy, the positions of a number of points in the northern anthracite coal-field. Professor Merriman was instructed to continue the triangulation work northward from the Blue mountain, over the southern and middle anthracite coal-fields. Professor Louis H. Barnard was also instructed to continue the work westward of the Susquehanna.

The party of Assistant Tittmann took the field on June 23, and continued at work until October 24. A scheme of triangles, hexagons, and quadrilaterals was laid out, covering the ground above indicated. The station Penobscot, south of Wilkes-Barre, forms the pole of a hexagon which connects the stations Bear's Head, Knob, and Pimple Hill with three stations on the highest parts of the North mountain, and these, by a second polygon, are again connected with the stations of the New York State Survey, near the forty-second parallel of latitude. An intermediate system of quadrilaterals and triangles was also provided for the location of secondary stations. Angular measurements were made at four of the primary and at three of the secondary stations, in order to locate points in the northern anthracite coal-field. The number of the secondary points thus located, and whose geographical positions are now known, is nine, two of which are near Wilkes-Barre, and the others between Scranton and Carbondale.

The party of Professor Merriman was in the field from June 23 to September 16. The stations Knob, Bear's Head, Pimple Hill, Smith's Gap, Bake-Oven, and Port Clinton, were occupied in the order named, and the horizontal angles measured with the usual precision of primary work. Four towers were erected and five stations marked with proper centers or monuments. The angular measures made this season number 3,532, of which 2,812 were upon primary angles, and 720 upon secondary angles. These have enabled the geographical positions of four primary stations and of eight secondary points to be computed. Five of these secondary points are near the eastern end of the southern anthracite coal-field, and one in the middle anthracite field.

The party of Professor Barnard was in the field from July 12 to November 4. The station Dauphin was occupied and horizontal angles measured. Tripods had been erected in 1884 as far west as Mexico, Doubling Gap, and Piney Mt.; beyond these stations it was necessary to make a second reconnoissance. For this purpose a tripod was built at Clark's Knob, and a rapid reconnoissance was made to the north and west of this station, not altering, however, the one already made.

During the season of 1885, the weather was unusually favorable for triangulation work, due, perhaps, to the fact that the heavy summer rainfall, which usually occurs in June in eastern Pennsylvania, did not this year happen until August. The results obtained in the anthracite coal regions render it possible for secondary and tertiary triangles to be rapidly extended for the use of the Second Geological Survey. The reconnoissance projected by Assistant Tittmann now furnishes a continuous chain of triangles along the seventy-sixth meridian from the mouth of Chesapeake Bay to the eastern end of Lake Ontario, which will ultimately serve for the measurement of part of an arc of the meridian of six or seven degrees in length.

THE TRIANGULATION AND RECONNOISSANCE IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

By Professor LOUIS H. BARNARD, of Pennsylvania State College, Acting Assistant, United States Coast Survey.

REPORT OF PROGRESS FOR THE SEASON OF 1885.

[Printed by permission of the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.]

The object of the work of the past season was to make a reconnoissance of precision from the lines Dauphin-Round Top and Round Top-Pulpit Rock westward to the line Forge-Wells. The results were to be used in constructing a map of this portion of the State, and the work was to be done with a corresponding degree of precision.

The latitude and longitude of station Round Top, and the length of line Dauphin-Round Top had been previously determined, and there remained to measure the angles at the following stations, viz: Dauphin, Piney

Mt., Clark's Knob, Blue Rock, Mexico, and Doubling Gap. This would give sufficient data to compute the latitude, longitude, and azimuth of all the stations within the above-mentioned limits.

Tripods had been erected as far west as stations Mexico, Doubling Gap, and Piney Mt.; beyond these points it was necessary to make a second reconnoissance. During the season, the station Dauphin was occupied and the angles there measured. A tripod was erected at Clark's Knob, and a rapid reconnoissance was made to the north and west of that station, not altering, however, the previous one. Signals were set up at Dauphin, Round Top, Piney Mt., Mexico, Doubling Gap, Pulpit Rock, and Clark's Knob, adopting the following form, which seems to combine economy, stability, and visibility from all points of the horizon: A flour or sugar barrel is centered over the end of an 18 or 20-feet pole, and secured there by nails driven through the head of the barrel into the end of the pole: the lower end of the barrel may be lashed to the pole with a small rope, or secured by light bracing. The pole can be accurately centered over the station mark by hoisting it through a hole in the cap block of tripod, and securing its lower end by braces nailed to it and to the tripod legs. The barrel may be painted white if desired, and can be seen at a distance of thirty miles, with an 8-theodolite, showing as a small spot of very regular outline. When not in use, the pole may be lowered, and the barrel allowed to rest on the cap block.

APPENDIX.

Board of Property.

A Board of Property, consisting of the Attorney General, Secretary of the Commonwealth, and Secretary of Internal Affairs, is authorized by law. Their powers are to "hear and determine in all cases of controversy on caveats, in all matters of difficulty or irregularity, touching escheats, warrants on escheats, warrants to agree, rights of preëmption, promises, imperfect titles, or otherwise, which heretofore have, or hereafter may, arise, in transacting the business of the said Land-Office."

The present Board consists of :

Lewis C. Cassidy, Attorney General.

William S. Stenger, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

J. Simpson Africa, Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Clerk of the Board, J. W. Greenland.

Stated meetings of the Board will be held on the Wednesday following the third Tuesday of each alternate month of the year 1886, to wit : January 20, March 17, May 19, July 21, September 22, and November 17. All communications for the consideration of the Board should be addressed to the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

A particular form of caveat is not required, but the application, warrant, or other office right against which it is entered, should be distinctly stated therein, together with the reasons for filing the same. A caveat against the acceptance of a survey or granting a patent has no effect after two years from the date of the filing of the same, unless, meantime, a citation shall have been issued. Either party to a caveat may apply for a citation to bring the matter in controvery before the Board for hearing and decision, and, after the same has been issued, must give the opposing party thirty days' notice of the time fixed for hearing the case ; and either desiring to take depositions to be read in evidence must give the other at least ten days' notice of the time and place, and before whom they are to be taken.

All other matters, within the powers of the Board to hear and determine, should be brought before it by petition.

Warrants and Surveys.

A warrant or order of survey authorizes only the survey of vacant lands, for they alone belong to the Commonwealth to grant ; but whether the lands applied for are vacant or not, the land officers do not undertake to examine, and in most instances do not possess the means of ascertaining. Of this the applicant must judge for himself. If he knows them to be appropriated by prior right, it is against conscience to take out a warrant for them, or to have them surveyed as vacant. But he may assert the invalidity of a former grant, and insist on a survey. In that case, the deputy surveyor ought, if it be known to him, to note it in his books and return of survey.

RETURNS OF SURVEYS.—Having finished the survey and plotted it, the surveyor ought to return it to the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. This is an important part of his duty. Many regulations and laws have, from time to time, required it, and from its omission frequent disputes have occurred. The deputy surveyor, however, is not obliged to return the survey until his fees and expenses are paid; and if the failure to return is occasioned by the neglect or refusal of the party to defray them, any loss thereby sustained is imputable to him, and not to the officer. The regulations of the Proprietaries and the acts of Assembly concur in directing the return to be made on paying for the survey. * * * If the party pays or tenders the fees, it is the duty of the surveyor to return the survey in a convenient time, and the neglect or fraud of the surveyor will not affect his rights. But it lies on the party to show that the want of the return was not occasioned by any default or neglect of his own; and, if there is nothing to show that the surveying fees were paid, the inference is that they were not paid. The deputy, being a sworn officer, is, prima facia, presumed to have done his duty.

Patents.

The patent is a deed from the Commonwealth, under its great seal, conveying to the grantee all its right in the land, describing it by metes and bounds, and passes, as respects the Commonwealth, the complete legal title, all the preparatory measures of warrant, application, survey, and acceptance being merged in the patent. As to third persons, it is prima facia evidence that all the previous requisites had been complied with. Before it issues, the purchase money due, [and the patent fee,] must always be paid; and the land is thenceforth discharged from the lien which till then existed. Generally, the grantee is concluded by the lines and boundaries described in the patent, though perhaps in a special case there might be an exception.

Third persons claiming by warrant, application, settlement, or otherwise, may show that the patent was wrongfully issued to the patentee; or, rather, that he is trustee for him who has the right, the material consideration being, not who has the patent, but to whom it ought to have been granted. For the land officers, in issuing the patent, act merely in a ministerial capacity, and cannot change the rules of law or rights of parties. And even though he who has the patent sell to a bona fide purchaser without notice, the vendee is in no better situation. His claim under the patent may be contested by one having a better right by settlement, warrant, or location. These titles are not equities within the ordinary rule of being unavailing against a purchaser of the legal title. A patent founded on a fraudulent survey, or obtained by misrepresentation and deceit, is void against third persons affected by it.

The patent, however, has always been received in evidence in the first instance, to show that the legal title was out of the Commonwealth. The question whether it is good is a subsequent one.—Sergeant's Land Laws, p. 155.

The following regulations, relative to issuing patents, are published for the information and guidance of owners of unpatented lands :

1. The patent must issue to the actual owner of the land, or party holding title under the warrantee, or to the executors, trustees, or heirs and legal representatives of the person in whom title was vested at death, or to the guardians of minor children of the deceased.

2. Warrantees who remain the owners of the land warranted and surveyed to them can obtain patents in their own names, (if no caveat remains undetermined,) without furnishing any brief or statement of title, upon payment of back purchase money, interest, and fees.

3. Executors, trustees, and guardians representing the warrantee, or his heirs, who apply for patents, should produce evidence of their appointment as such.

4. When the land has passed out of the ownership of the original warrantee, or party who took out the office right, the applicant for patent will be required to furnish evidence of ownership.

5. The present owner of a part of a tract of land surveyed in pursuance of any given warrant, desiring to have a patent in his own name, can obtain it by having the county surveyor make return of survey of such part. In making the survey, the county surveyor must, besides giving the courses and distances and quantity of acres, in the particular part, indicate the residue of the original tract by dotted lines. The applicant will only be required to pay his proportion of the whole amount due on the tract, with fees. Evidence of ownership to accompany application.

6. When an unpatented original tract has been sold and sub-divided, the several present owners may unite in an application for patent and statement of title, and, upon payment of amount due, with patent and other fees, a patent will issue to them, the said applicants, their heirs and assigns, according to their respective rights and interests, without setting forth the particular interest of each.

7. In cases where it is difficult to submit the evidence of title required by this Department, in order to obtain a patent, any one or more of the owners of the unpatented tract can, through this Department, discharge the lien against said tract by the payment of the purchase money, interest, and fees, shown to be due by the land lien docket, and the interest since accrued, and a patent can at any time afterward be issued to those entitled to it, upon proof of ownership.

8. The accounts in the lien dockets are calculated to June 1, 1868. If to the amount due, as shown in its proper column, there be added the interest accruing from June 1, 1868, to the date of forwarding the docket to the prothonotary, at the rate given in the column of rate per cent. of interest, and on this sum interest be calculated at the rate of six per cent. from the time of forwarding the docket until the date of the application for patent, it will give the amount required to procure a patent. (See 2d sec. of the act of the 20th of May, 1864, printed on a subsequent page.) But interest is not charged on patent or other fees. (See act of the 5th of May, 1871.)

A statement of the amount due on any particular tract or tracts, or any other information in relation thereto, will be promptly furnished, on application to this Department.

Persons sending money to the Department of Internal Affairs for payment of arrears on unpatented lands and for records, &c., should send by registered letter, postal order, or express. Drafts, checks, or post-office money-orders must be made payable to the order of the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Miscellaneous.

An indorsement, say for example, "Returned, &c., February 22, 1815," which is frequently found on copies of warrants and surveys, does not mean the date at which the return or survey was received at this office, but the date at which the Surveyor General made a return of the tract to the Secretary of the Land-Office for patenting. And when such indorsement is found on the back of a copy of a warrant or survey, even at the date at which the office of the Secretary of the Land Office was discontinued, it is an evidence, in perhaps more than ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, that the tract is patented. Some exceptions have been found. Why the custom of marking the warrants and surveys thus, when a tract was patented, after the office of the Secretary of the Land-Office was abolished on the 10th of May, 1844, is not apparent. This custom was discontinued on the 1st of January, 1868, and the indorsement, "Patented to ————, 18—," was substituted.

A mistaken idea, prevalent with many people not familiar with the Land-Office, is, that the Department has connected drafts, showing the location of every tract of land surveyed in the several counties, and that, therefore, whatever of vacant land there may be in the State can be readily found out at this office, and that information can, without difficulty, be given as to the adjoining surveys of any named tract, without advising the Department of the names and dates of the warrants upon which such surveys were made. Had the lands of the Commonwealth been first surveyed and afterwards sold, this idea would have been correct, but the very reverse was the fact, for the lands were sold and warrants for subsequent surveys issued. And, because of this policy, the Department has only single and unconnected copies of the surveys. Unless a given survey calls for warrantee adjoiners, it would be a work altogether out of proportion to the fees allowed to undertake to search out all the warrants and surveys, perhaps for a whole county, in order to find the adjoining tracts, or search for a supposed vacant piece of land; but the task is comparatively easy when the party seeking the information learns, as he can more readily do from the county surveyor, or persons in the neighborhood, the names of all the surrounding warrantees and dates of warrants, and communicates that data to this Department.

It will be observed, from the foregoing, that in communication with the Department, it is of the first importance to give the name of the warrantee and date of warrant of the survey or patent about which inquiry is made; but when the date of warrant cannot be given, the party asking for official copies or information should give quantity of acres, location, and any other data in his possession that will aid in searching for the tract.

Frequently applications for warrants for land, made out in due form, are sent to the Department unaccompanied by the purchase money and warrant fee. Of course the warrants cannot issue until the proper amount of money is paid into the State Treasury, and the applications thus made gain no priority over others that might be made for the same lands until all the requirements of law are complied with.

The law does not contemplate that credit should be given on account of fees for searches and official copies, and, therefore, to save correspondence, and insure more speedy attention, the proper amount of fees should be sent with each order. If too much is forwarded, the surplus will be promptly returned, with the official papers asked for.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNTY SURVEYORS.

1. Execution of Warrants.

1. You shall faithfully execute every warrant that shall be directed to you from this Department, to the best of your skill, knowledge, and understanding, according to the express words and order of such warrants, and not otherwise.*

2. You shall not make use of any chain-carriers but such as are of good character, who shall take a solemn oath, (which you are authorized by law to administer,) justly and exactly to execute their trust, without favor, partiality, or affection.†

3. You will, on no pretense, execute new warrants upon lands heretofore surveyed on old warrants or orders, but report, as nearly as may be, the circumstances relating to the same. And before you make return of any lands by you surveyed on new warrants, endeavor to be satisfied that no warrant of an earlier date has been issued for the same land: and on your return, certify whether the lands have been improved, and for how many years.‡

* ¶ 1 of instructions of the Commissioners of Property to Isaac Taylor, Proprietary's surveyor for the county of Chester, signed by said Taylor, on the 28th of eleventh month, 1701.

† ¶ 6 of same.

‡ Adopted February, 1796.

4. You must, by no means, execute warrants on any other land than that which they particularly describe; and in order that your returns of survey may appear to be so executed, it will be necessary for you to be particularly attentive to the adjoiners mentioned in the warrant; and where there has been any change in them between the issuing and executing of the warrant, it must be noted in your return of survey.§

5. You will be particularly careful in executing warrants granted after the 1st day of June, 1814, and not founded on actual settlement, not to interfere with the rights of settlers, and in all cases where an actual resident settlement is included, note on your return whether it was commenced prior or subsequent to the 28th day of March, 1814.‖

6. You shall not make return of any survey but such as has actually been made on the ground; and you shall take care that all outlines and boundaries shall be fairly and visibly marked before you quit the field.

II. Returns of Surveys.

7. You are to make a separate return of survey on each warrant or order issued from this Department within six months after the receipt thereof.††

8. Each return of survey shall conform with the following requirements, to wit:

I. The paper or parchment used to be of the dimensions of at least eight by twelve inches.

II. It must contain a protracted figure of the land, exactly performed, with the field works annexed.*

III. All streams of water, roads, railroads, canals, township, or county lines intersecting or crossing the lines of the survey must be distinctly and visibly marked on the draft at the very place of intersection or crossing, and the distance from the corners expressed in figures on the lines crossed.†

IV. The lines of so much of the adjacent surveys as may serve to show their connection with the survey returned to be represented on the draft by dotted lines.‡

V. When a survey is bounded by a creek or river, the bearings and distances of the several meanderings must be given.§

VI. Note, whenever they can be obtained, the warrantee names of adjoining tracts, as well as the names of the present owners thereof.

VII. The certificate on each return of survey to be made in accordance with the proper form, as printed in the annual reports of the Department.

§ From ¶ 3 of instructions issued in 1796.

9. When you return a survey of a part of a tract of land for patenting, you must specify the name of the warrantee, the date of the warrant, and the number of acres contained in the whole tract, and on the draft represent the residue of the tract by dotted lines.‖ But you are, in no event, to make and return to this Department a "resurvey" of a tract, either to include more land or to exclude any part, or in any wise alter the original boundary lines thereof, unless authorized to do so by an order of the Board of Property. When an order of resurvey has been issued, and sent to you for execution, you are strictly to follow the directions therein contained.

10. You may make official returns of surveys actually made by your predecessors, after having satisfied yourself of their correctness, and that they have been located according to the calls of the warrants.

11. Surveys intended to be returned to this Department must be made or approved by you.

12. You may survey and return any surplus not exceeding one hundred acres above the quantity mentioned in the warrant, location, or order of survey. The purchase money for all the surplus land surveyed on warrants must be first paid into the State Treasury before the return of survey can be accepted in this Department, of which you will give notice to the owner or owners of such warrant, and always send the money to pay the excess, with the return of the survey.*

13. All returns of survey, in order to conform with the files of the Department, should be folded as follows: Double the sheet by bringing the upper and lower edges of the sheet evenly together, then fold in each side so as to make a form about two and seven eighths inches wide and in length from six to seven inches, according to the size of the sheet. The back of the return should be left blank.

14. With each return of survey send a copy of the tabling and calculation thereof on a separate piece of paper.†

15. All returns to this Department must be under cover, directed to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, with your name subscribed on the back of the paper or envelope inclosing the same.‡

III. Office Duties.

16. You are to keep your office open for the reception of all warrants directed to you, which shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose, distinguishing therein the name of the warrantee, quantity of land granted, date of warrant, and the day when you received it. Also, in another book, you shall keep fair and regular entries, in order of time, of all surveys and

And the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall, from time to time, have free access to said books of entries and to all other papers relating to your office.§

17. Under the provisions of the Constitution of 1873, you are required to keep your office at the county town, but if you desire letters sent to any other address, advise this Department.

18. Before you can enter upon the duties of your office, you must comply with the seventh section of the act of Assembly passed the 9th day of April, 1850, which requires you to take an oath or affirmation, which must be administered in the open court of quarter sessions,‖ and send a copy of said oath, duly certified, to this Department; and have your bond approved by the court, recorded in the office for recording deeds in the proper county, and forward the same to the Secretary of Commonwealth, with one dollar, the fee for filing in his office.

RECENT LEGISLATION RELATING TO THE LAND-OFFICE.

COUNTY SURVEYORS.

Their Duties.

Under the Proprietary government, deputy surveyors were appointed by the Proprietary, the Commissioners of Property, or the Surveyor General, for certain districts, and given authority to execute warrants or orders, by making surveys and returns thereof to the Land-Office. The duties of these deputies were defined by letters of instructions, issued from time to time. Those dated the 28th of eleventh month, 1701, revised and enlarged in 1765, contain such directions as were then deemed necessary for the information and guidance of the deputies, and formed the basis of those now in force. The act of Assembly of the 9th of April, 1781, establishing the Land-Office under the Commonwealth, authorized the Surveyor General to appoint a deputy or deputies in any county of the State, who should have power to make and return into the Land-Office surveys of land only in the county for which such deputy or deputies shall be appointed; and the act of 1st April, 1784, by virtue of which the Land-Office was opened on the 1st day of July following for the sale of the vacant lands of the Commonwealth, directed that its several officers should transact the business of the Land-Office, agreeably to the former customs and usages thereof. By subsequent legislation, the duties of the deputies were more clearly defined. The act of the 9th April, 1850, [P. L. 434,] authorized the voters of each

[Act of 20th May, 1864. P. L., 944.]

An act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth, for lands held by virtue of locations, or other office titles.

1. SECTION I. That it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out a list of all lands held by location, or any other office right, issued from the Land Department of this Commonwealth, of every kind and description, upon which no patents have issued, designating the county in which such lands are situated, with such other descriptions of the same as the records of his office will enable him to give, including the names in which such locations or other office rights are entered, and surveys have been returned; and on the list being completed, or any part thereof, be transmitted to the prothonotary of the county in which such lands are situated.

2. Section II. That it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to calculate the amount of purchase money, interest, and fees, due on each unpatented tract; and after the descriptions of said tracts have been transmitted to the prothonotaries of the respective counties, and entered, as hereinafter provided, the amounts so found to be due, together with five dollars for the labor and costs of making out and filing, shall form an aggregate sum which shall be entered in a lien docket to be provided and kept for that purpose, and said sum shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent.

3. Section III. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each county, upon receiving any descriptive list as aforesaid, to provide a suitable docket, with a proper index, for the purpose of recording all such descriptions of unpatented lands, and shall accurately record the same and index the name of the original warrantee or actual original settler, as the case may be, and each subsequent owner so far as ascertained, and preserve the same among the records of the county: Provided, That when any party in interest, by petition under oath or affirmation, setting out the facts in the case, as in affidavit of defense, shall represent to the president judge of the court of common pleas of the county, in which any tract or piece of land, against which the entry directed in the foregoing section has been made, or the principal part thereof, may lie, that said tract has been patented, either in the name against which the entry is made, or in any other name, the said judge shall, after such notice to the Surveyor General as he shall deem proper, proceed to hear the case of the petitioner; and the said judge shall, thereupon, make such decree in the premises, either by directing the said entry to be struck from the record, or such other order as to said entry, and also as to costs, as may seem equitable.

4. Section IV. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each county, upon receiving from the Surveyor General any such list or calculation of amounts due the Commonwealth for purchase money, interest, and fees, to provide a suitable docket with index, in the form of the lien dockets now in use in the several counties of this Commonwealth, to be styled "Lien Docket of Unpatented Lands," and enter therein the amount so found to be due, which sum shall remain a lien upon such tract or tracts, until paid; and that a fee of fifty cents be paid to the prothonotary for each description so entered, and that he be allowed the same fees on the liens entered, as are now allowed on judgments entered by warrant of attorney in the court of common pleas.

5. SECTION V. That it shall be the duty of the prothonotary, upon receiving any such descriptive list, to cause the same to be published in two newspapers in the county where such lands are located, for three successive weeks, for which publication he shall be authorized to pay fifty cents for each tract, and charge the same as costs on the lien docket, and retain his fees and costs out of any moneys, in his hands, due the Commonwealth.

6. SECTION VI. The amounts which may be due to the Commonwealth on the lands mentioned in the first section of this act, may be paid in accordance with the existing laws in relation to such lands, if the same be paid prior to the first day of November next: Provided, That any costs, which may have accrued in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall also be paid, and that the act to graduate lands on which money is due and unpaid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved April tenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, be revived and continued in force, until the said first day of November next; and any survey and appraisements, made since the first day of August last, shall have the same validity for the issuing of patents thereon, as if the last mentioned law had been still in full force.

7. SECTION VII. That all liens due the Commonwealth for unpatented lands, after the first day of November, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, may be proceeded upon by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, in the manner directed to be pursued against defaulting public officers, by the act of April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and the supplement thereto.

8. SECTION VIII. All persons in the military and naval service of the United States, shall be allowed one year after the expiration of said service, for the taking out of any patent or patents under the provisions of this act.

9. SECTION IX.* That, hereafter, the patent fee, on town lots not exceeding one fourth of an acre, shall be one dollar, and on lots not exceeding two acres, five dollars.

[Act of 4th April, 1868. P. L., 60.]

A supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due to the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

10. SECTION I. That in lieu of the descriptive lists provided for in said act, it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out and forward to the prothonotaries of the several counties, lien dockets, to be styled "land lien dockets," containing lists of all unpatented and patented lands, situate in the counties respectively, upon which there is money due the Commonwealth, and in all cases where surveys have been returned, to enter therein the amount of purchase money, interest, and all fees due, and said aggregate shall remain a lien on such tract until paid or otherwise legally discharged: Provided, That the several prothonotaries shall be allowed to charge the fees now authorized by law when any information shall be desired from said records, and for entering any certificate under the seal of the Surveyor General, setting forth that any lien or part of lien against an unpatented tract has been paid, shall charge the party presenting such certificate a fee of twenty-five cents for entering and filing the same.

11. Section II. That the fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and so much of said act as is inconsistent herewith, be and the same is hereby repealed.

[Act of 8th April, 1869. P. L., 21.]

An act directing public notice to be given when county land lien dockets are forwarded to the respective counties, and staying proceedings by the Attorney Genera for one year from the date of forwarding the same.

Whereas, The Surveyor General, at an early day, will be prepared to send out the county land lien dockets, containing accounts due the Commonwealth on account of lands, prepared under the act approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and the supplement thereto, approved the fourth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight:

And whereas, It is proper that the people owing the State, for or on account of lands, should have notice when the liens therefor are entered in the counties, and that a reasonable time should be given to enable them to liquidate their indebtedness and obtain patents for their lands, before suits shall be brought in such cases by the Attorney General; therefore,

12. Section I. That when any county land lien docket, prepared under the foregoing acts, shall be forwarded to any county, the Surveyor General is hereby authorized and directed to cause a notice thereof to be given in one English newspaper, published at the county seat of such county, and also in one German newspaper, if there be one in said county, setting forth that the land lien docket for that county has been forwarded to the prothonotary thereof: Provided, That no greater sum than ten dollars shall be paid for such notice or advertisement for any one county; and on evidence being submitted to the Auditor General that such advertisement has been authorized by the Surveyor General, and inserted at the usual rates of advertising, he shall draw his warrant on the treasury in favor of the editor or publisher inserting the same.

13. Section II. That no suit or suits shall be entered or instituted by the Attorney General, under the provisions of the seventh section of the act of the twentieth of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, until one year shall have elapsed from the date at which the Surveyor General shall have forwarded to each county, respectively, the land lien docket for the same.

[Act of 15th April, 1869. P. L., 31.]

A further supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due to the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of locations or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

WHEREAS, An examination of warrants and returns of survey show in many cases interferences in said returns, and in many instances where patents have issued on some of said surveys, there are balances due upon other warrants covering the same land; therefore,

14. SECTION I. That whenever satisfactory evidence shall be given to the Surveyor General that a lien or liens have been entered against lands for which the Commonwealth has been fully paid, both for land and patent fees, he is hereby authorized, and it shall be his duty, to give to the party or parties applying for the same a release of said lien or liens, so far as said patented lands are concerned; which said release may be entered on the land lien docket, in accordance with the provisions of the supplement to the act of which this is a further supplement, approved the fourth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

[As many persons will apply for releases under the provisions of this law, it is deemed proper to state what will be regarded as satisfactory evidence by this Department. Applicants, in order to avail themselves of the act, should cause a plot or survey of the patented tracts, and the unpatented interfering tracts, (showing the manner in which, and to what extent they cover the same land,) to be made by the county surveyor, who will certify that he has made the same at the request of A, B, and C—the owners of the patented tracts, or parts of tracts, or their agents or attorney—giving names of warrantees and dates of warrants and patents, and names and dates of warrants of the unpatented lands, and that he believes the interference or interferences to be as delineated by him. On a paper appended to the above plot of surveys, the applicant or applicants, his or their agent or attorney, will be required to make an affidavit, that the interferences are believed to be as delineated by the county surveyor. A release will then be issued to the owner or owners of the patented tract or tracts, relieving them from any and all liability to pay the liens of the Commonwealth entered against such interfering unpatented tract or tracts. Section seven of the act approved the 20th day of May, 1864, invested the Attorney General with authority to proceed against the owners of unpatented lands, to enforce the payment of the arrears of purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth on said lands. This power, by the following supplement, became vested in the Board of Property.]

[Act of 5th May, 1871. P. L., 261.]

A further supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

15. Section I. That the Board of Property shall have full and discretionary power as to the time of entering suits and the number thereof, to be brought for the collection of liens against unpatented lands; and the Attorney General shall proceed, under the seventh section of the said act, to which this is a further supplement, when authorized to do so by the said Board: Provided, That no interest shall be charged on patent or other fees.

[Act of 11th April, 1872. P. L., 51.]

A further supplement to an act directing the entry of liens for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands held by virtue of location or other office title, approved the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

16. Section I. That for carrying into full effect the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to make out and forward to the several county surveyors, respectively, from time to time, as the Board of Property may determine, special lists of warrantee names of unpatented tracts, or remaining parts of unpatented tracts, of lands within the several counties, as the same may appear upon the land lien dockets, with such other data relating thereto as he may deem necessary.

17. Section II. 19. SECTION IV. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyor, upon the reasonable request of any owner, or his agent, of part of an original tract which has not been patented, to make and return a return of survey of such part to the Surveyor General, and for which service his fees shall be the same as for executing a warrant of survey, as now provided by law for the same quantity of acres.

20. SECTION V. That when any suits shall be entered by the Attorney General, under the act to which this is a further supplement, it shall be by scire facias sur liens, which shall be directed for service to the sheriff of the county in which the land is situate; and if he finds it necessary to insure a service of said writ, he may call to his aid the county surveyor, who shall act as his deputy, for the purpose of serving such writ; and all such writs shall be made returnable to the court of common pleas of the county wherein such lands are situate, where all such suits shall be tried.

REMARKS ON COUNTY ASSESSMENTS.

The county assessments for 1885, compared with those for 1884, show the following results:

Increase in the number of taxables, *11,555; in the valuation of real estate taxable, $33,639,163; in taxable money at interest, $14,202,080; in the number of horses and mules over four years of age, 7,724, and in their valuation, $1,543,425; in the number of cattle over four years of age, 12,322, and in their valuation, $156,223; in the valuation of pleasure carriages, $155,067; in the valuation of salaries, $3,620,360; in the valuation of property taxable for county purposes, $33,308,741; in the aggregate amount of State tax assessed, $78,472 29; and in the aggregate amount of county tax assessed, $528,701 78. Decrease in the aggregate valuation of household furniture, (over $600,) $67,334; in all property taxable for State purposes, $1,627,873; in the number of pleasure carriages, 2,113; and in county debts, $2,810,272 32.

The most remarkable changes in the number of taxables in the various counties are as follows: Blair, an increase of 3,669; Lackawanna, an increase of 3,061; Schuylkill, an increase of 2,776; Lancaster, a decrease of 3,766, and Philadelphia, a decrease of 8,815. The increase in the three counties first above-named is probably due to an unusual influx of persons of taxable age, but it is not presumed that the reported decrease in the two counties last named is owing to an actual loss of taxable inhabitants. It would be strange, indeed, if Lancaster had actually declined in taxable inhabitants, whilst every county that adjoins her had increased. Nor can the decrease in Philadelphia and Lancaster well be attributed to a diminished interest in political affairs, as that cause should have produced the same effect throughout the State, except where counteracted by local causes.

Of the increase of $33,639,163 in the valuation of real estate subject to taxation, Philadelphia contributed $14,021,723; Allegheny, $4,060,585; Montgomery, $3,305,313; Delaware, $902,591; Cumberland, $859,493; Westmoreland, $651,508; Northampton, $647,361; York, $634,105; Lackawanna, $394,130; Chester, $391,289; Indiana, $378,589; Washington, $365,457; Lancaster, $322,153; Schuylkill, $300,524; Erie, $252,474; Luzerne, $206,061; Lehigh, $184,651; Lawrence, $184,125; Huntingdon, $178,573; Clearfield, $116,610; Lycoming, $108,881, and other counties smaller amounts. The most considerable decrease in the valuation of tax-

*Owing to an error in the returns of the commissioners of Clearfield county, which was not discovered in this Department till after the form of tabulated results had gone through the press, the apparent increase is 16,555. As returned by the commissioners, the column of taxables was footed up 18,676, an error of 5,000, the true footing of the column being 13,676.

able real estate is reported by Northumberland county, $3,183,452,* Clinton following with $1,685,655; Fayette, $854,049; Greene, $265,067; Warren, $256,285, and other counties smaller amounts. It is doubtful whether all these changes represent actual changes in the value of real property, though some of them probably do. Many assessors take large liberties in the performance of their duties. The assessments for 1885, like those for 1884, show that in some counties real estate is not assessed at more than one fifth its actual value, whilst in others it is assessed at fully four fifths its value. It is much to be regretted that it is not uniformly assessed at its market value, so that this official report might exhibit the full and true value of all the real estate in the Commonwealth. As remarked in the last annual report of this Department: "No injustice would be done to any property-holder, nor would taxes be increased, by the assessment of all property at its actual value. An increase in the assessed value would be accompanied by such a decrease in the rate of taxation as would leave the tax levied just the same as it would be under the existing system of under-valuation."

The tabular statement accompanying this report, when compared with that accompanying the report for 1884, shows a heavy increase in the value of "all property taxable for county purposes," and of household furniture and plate, but this is owing to the accidental omission of Philadelphia's return of both these items from the tabular statement of last year, in which she ought to have appeared with $583,612,683 as her valuation of all property taxable for county purposes, and with $6,892,371 for household furniture and plate. Rectifying these omissions in the tabular statement for 1884, there is, as hereinbefore stated, an apparent increase of $33,308,741 in the value of property taxable for county purposes, and a decrease of $67,334 in the value of furniture and plate, in 1885, when compared with 1884. Erie, instead of improving upon her absurd return of $600 for furniture in 1884, has dropped to nothing. Ten counties have increased their valuation, thirty-six have decreased theirs, and the remainder have either left their figures unchanged or given none at all. The glaring inequalities in the assessments of furniture and plate were plainly pointed out in the report of this Department for 1884, but the delinquent assessors have not amended their methods.

The "aggregate amount of money at interest, taxable at the rate of four mills on the dollar," has risen in the table from $115,833,134 in 1884, to $130,035,214 in 1885, an apparent increase of $14,202,080. But Berks, Crawford, Fulton and Lancaster did not fill this column in their returns for 1884, whilst all of them, except Berks, have filled it for 1885—Crawford,

*In the commissioners' returns, the real estate taxable in Mt. Carmel township is given at $4,290,978 in 1884, and at $708,742 in 1885, a reduction of $3,582,236. There was probably an error in the returns for 1884 about equal to this reduction; and if so, Northumberland should be credited with an increase of about $400,000. The probable cause of the apparent decrease was not discovered before the foregoing remarks were put in type.

with $650,721; Fulton, with $19,107, and Lancaster, with $10,489,853, an aggregate of $11,159,681. If these three counties had contributed about a like aggregate to the table for 1884, as it is supposed they should have done, the increase in the present table would be only about $3,000,000. Berks should probably have contributed not less than $2,000,000 to each table, (1884 and 1885.)

The assessments show an increase of 7,724 in the number of horses and mules over four years of age, and of $1,543,425 in their value; of 12,322 in the number of cattle of like age, and of $156,223 in their value; a decrease of 2,113 in the number of pleasure carriages and buggies, with an increase of $155,067 in their value; and an increase of $3,620,360 in the valuation of "salaries, emoluments of office, posts of profit, trades, occupations and professions." Some of the counties exhibit greater changes in the number of their horses and cattle than the fixed character of their population and business would lead us to expect, but Bedford and Berks furnish remarkable examples of stability in things of a changeable nature. Each of them returns, for 1885, precisely the same number of "horses, mares, geldings, and mules," and of "cows and neat cattle over four years of age," that it returned for 1884, and puts on them precisely the same valuation. It follows either that none of these animals died or was slaughtered or removed out of the county in the period between the two assessments, or that for every one removed in either of these ways, another was brought in or attained the proper age. Perry displays a like striking stability in the number of her horses and mules, with, however, a reduction of $5,561 in their value; whilst Bedford exhibits precisely the same number of each of the three kinds of watches taxable, and both Bedford and Somerset precisely the same number of taxables, as in 1884. If these figures are not merely transcripts of the assessments for 1884, they exhibit a very remarkable concurrence with them.

The "aggregate value of all property taxable for State purposes at the rate of three mills on the dollar," as returned in 1884, was $14,483,141; as returned in 1885, it is $12,855,268, a decrease of $1,627,873. Eleven counties made no return under this head last year, and eighteen have made none this year. Monroe, whose column under this head for 1884 footed up $69,243, foots up only $560 for 1885. The decrease may thus be accounted for. But whilst the returns for this year show (for the probable reasons just given) a decrease in the value of property taxable as above, they also show an increase of $8,010 58 in the taxes levied thereon. Four counties report the amount of tax levied on this species of property without reporting the value of the property itself, whilst another reports the value of the property but not the tax levied; and in one instance at least (Mifflin county) the amount of the tax is incorrectly given. The aggregate amount of State tax assessed at all rates is $689,998, an increase of $78,472 29 over 1884.

Lancaster, which was absent from this column last year, appears in it this year with $47,371 30, or over sixty per cent. of the increase.

The "aggregate value of all property taxable for county purposes," as assessed in 1885, is $1,831,329,414. The tax levied thereon is $16,073,231 35, an increase of $528,702 08 over the county taxes of the previous year. The returns under this head are complete from all the counties in the Commonwealth.

The rate of taxation for county purposes ranges from two and one fifth mills on the dollar in Northampton county, up to fifteen mills in Clarion. In Philadelphia, for combined city and county purposes, it is about seventeen and eighty-one one-hundredth mills.

The county debts are returned at $70,154,437 92 in the aggregate, a decrease of $2,810,272 32 since 1884. Twenty-nine counties reported no debt in 1884, and the same number, but not precisely the same counties, reported none in 1885. Seven have gone off the list of debtors, and seven others have been added to it. Philadelphia's debt is $63,083,597 42, and Allegheny's $4,031,776 10, leaving only $3,038,974 40 as the aggregate debt of the remaining counties.
